GOP Tackles Changes In Foreign Aid

NEW YORK (AP) — Republican congressmen are drawing up a drastically revised foreign aid program, shored along lines suggested by President-elect Nixon and his advisers. The New York Times reported today.

In a story from its Washington bureau, the Times said that the program, subject to revisions by a special committee to be named by Nixon after his inauguration, would include these main features:

—More emphasis on technical assistance programs, especially in such fields as agriculture, health and education, to give developing nations the benefit of modern technology.

—De-emphasis on large capital outlays and more multilateral arrangements between the United States and other donor countries in which the latter would be expected to supply more funds than in the past.

—A greater role for U.S. private enterprise capital through expansion of the present investment guarantee program. That program insures investors in developing countries against loss from revolution, expropriation and other causes.

—A greater concentration of U.S. aid among fewer developing countries, and the linking of all aid programs more closely to U.S. foreign policy interests.

Plane, 26 Aboard, Two Days Overdue

TAMPICO, Mexico (AP) — A search is under way for a chartered Mexican DC3 missing since Tuesday with 22 passengers and four crew members aboard.

Airport authorities at Tampico said the plane was carrying employees of the Mexican government oil monopoly, Petroleos Mexicanos, from Reynosa to a New Year's holiday in Tampico. Radio communication with the aircraft was lost shortly after it took off from Reynosa, on the U.S. border opposite McAllen, Tex.

Slain Coed's Body Found In Lonely Ravine

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The pretty 17-year-old daughter of an actress and a novelist, home on Christmas vacation from college, was found slain late Wednesday at the bottom of a thickly wooded ravine.

Dark-haired Marina Elizabeth Habe, daughter of Hans Habe of Zurich, Switzerland, and Eloise Hardt, was last seen when she left on a date Sunday night.

"She was definitely murdered," said Sheriff's Lt. Norman Hamilton who was at the scene when the body was recovered. However, he said the cause of death would not be announced until after a coroner's autopsy. Witnesses said there were no visible marks on the body.

No arrests were made, but Sheriff's Lt. Harold White said an alarm had been issued for a car seen near the girl's home early Wednesday morning. He said the male driver tried to molest a woman.

The girl's home in the Hollywood hills is located about four miles from the ravine where Marina was found. Officers said the ravine, clogged with thick brush, is off Mulholland Drive, a road known as a lovers lane.

Plush homes dot the hills. Nearby are houses owned by singer Robert Goulet and former presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger.

A search party found Marina's body about 30 feet down a slope. Searchers went there after a woman walking on Mulholland Drive reported finding a purse. In it were Marina's compact, credit cards and a small amount of money.

Searchers said the ravine was so overgrown with brush that a helicopter circling the area for days did not spot the body of the petite, blue-eyed girl, aspiring to be an artist.

Marina's body was still clad in the brown slacks and fur-trimmed coat she wore when she left to visit John Hornburg, 22, a family friend, in the Brentwood section of Los Angeles Sunday night.

Sheriff's Lt. White said the girl had been dead since early Monday morning.

Hornburg said he and Marina met two other couples at a night club on Santa Monica Boulevard about 8:30 Sunday night. They returned to his home about 11:30, and Marina left by herself about 3:15 a.m. She was headed home—usually a 20-minute drive.

Football fan Nixon went to the Rose Bowl in Pasadena Wednesday, watched Ohio State University defeat the University of Southern California, and said both were great teams.

"A great game," Nixon said. He said USC mistakes—a rash of second-half fumbles and interceptions—made the difference.

The score: Ohio State 27, USC 16. "They were a little better, just a little, a little stronger in the line," Nixon said of Ohio State's Buckeyes.

But Nixon maintained his neutrality. "I'm happy because Ohio State is happy," he said. "I'm sad because Southern California is sad."

Nixon had a football analyst at his side, former Oklahoma coach Bud Wilkinson, a friend and political ally. Their wives sat beside them.

At halftime, as Nixon and his party walked across the field from the Ohio State to the Southern California stands, Mrs. Nixon posed for photographs with the Rose Bowl queen.

"Two queens," Nixon said, smiling.

Observers said the card appeared to be a hoax, and neither Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, nor John McElroy, Gov. James A. Rhodes' chief aide, knew anything about it. McElroy said he knew of no such movement and was sure Rhodes "at this time" was not interested in the post.

—Sponsoring organizations indirectly used federal funds to help pay the local share of the programs' cost, and local sponsors paid only half their required 10 per cent.

—The "weaknesses cited went undetected for months because federal officials assigned to insure compliance with antipovertry program requirements "were performing very little monitoring of the NYC sponsor activities in Detroit."

The Associated Press report last April 10 that GAO investigators were delving into operations of the poverty fighting efforts in Detroit, one of two cities in the nation whose central antipovertry agency is an arm of city government rather than an independent profit corporation.

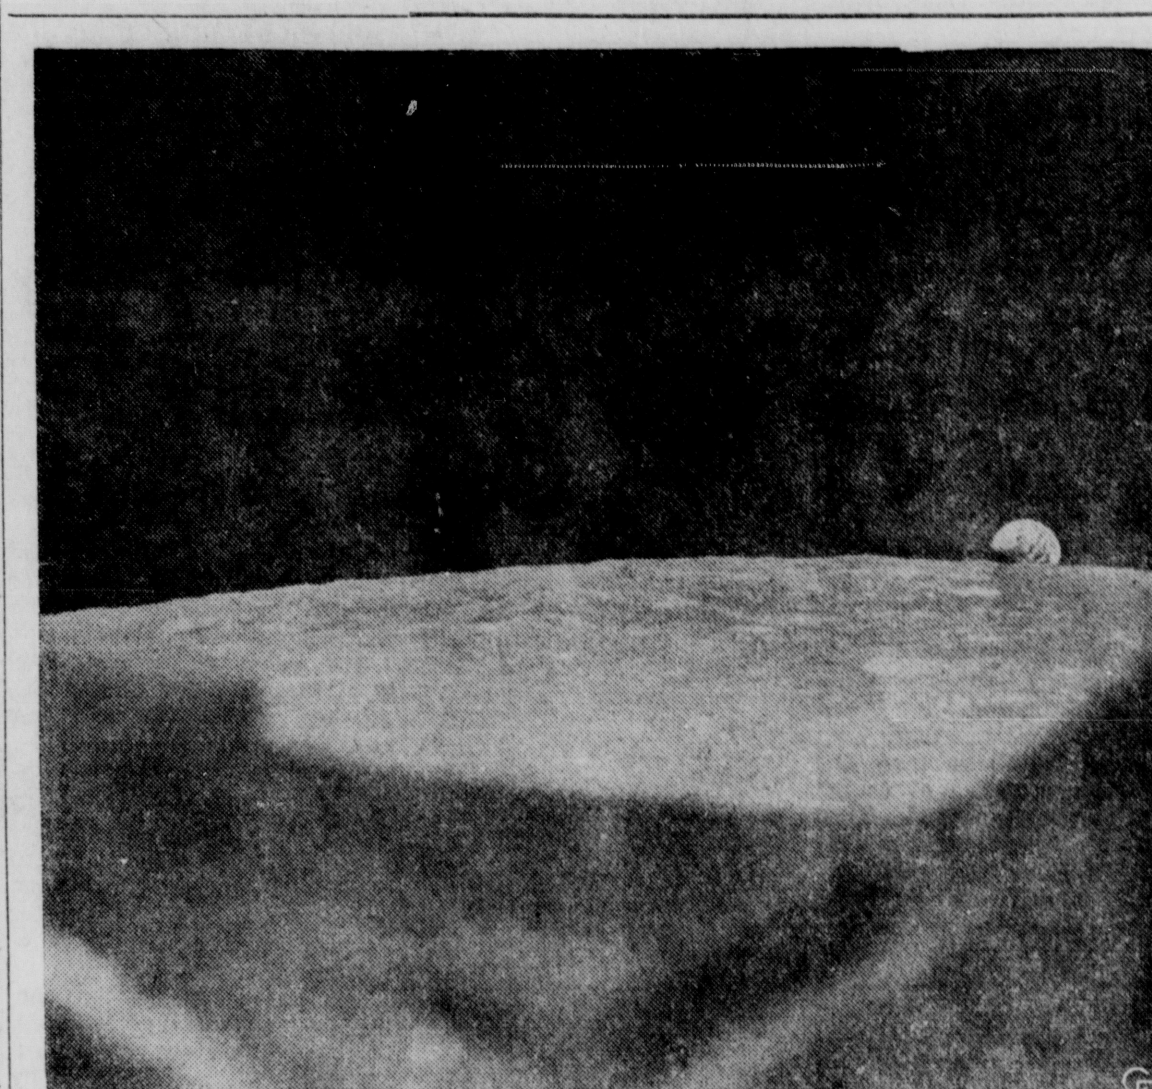

The GAO report centered on 16 neighborhood Youth Corps programs sponsored in fiscal 1966 and 1967 by one of three organizations—the Mayor's Committee for Human Resources Development, the city Board of Education and the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit. More than half the $15.7 million in federal funds involved went to the first group, headed by Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh.

The 16 projects fell into three categories. One type was set up to give 30 hours of work and 10 hours of training each week to "school dropouts and a limited number of high school graduates."

The second was designed to give part-time jobs of 8 to 15 hours a week to "young people who because of economic

Tax Referendum Petitions Filed

Petitions for a referendum on the new city income tax were filed Tuesday with the city auditor.

The 44 referendum petitions with 651 signatures were delivered to City Auditor Marvene Turner by Jim Locke about 11:30 a.m. Tuesday.

If enough of the petition signatures are declared valid a referendum on the city income tax will be held at the time of the November general election, according to city officials.

But the coming referendum does not prevent the city from collecting the tax until the election.

THE one half of one per cent income tax will be withheld from local paychecks beginning with the payday of the first complete work week of the new year. Vacation pay, however, which was earned last year, will not be taxed in 1969 but will be taxed beginning with 1970.

The tax is expected to bring the city additional revenues of $200,000 a year if it is approved by city voters. First of the new revenues will be received by the city at the April quarterly payments.

"The first year will be expensive," according to Mrs. Turner. New bookkeeping machinery, clerks and mailing equipment will have to be obtained by the city. The city will also require the assistance of an adviser to set up the tax system. His salary is estimated at $10,000 a year.

The petition asking for a public vote on the tax issue will remain at the office of the auditor for ten days to be inspected by local citizens and to permit those who signed the petition to withdraw their names if they so desire, according to Marvene Turner.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said Thursday he favored changing the state's primary election from May to August.

"The public gets tired of all the campaigning," Brown explained. "This is going to come."

The primary date change was one of the proposals made by Sidney Weil Jr., co-chairman of the Hamilton County Democratic Party, in a letter to Brown.

Israeli warplanes attacked Arab positions in Jordan today to silence guns which had fired on an army patrol, an Israeli army spokesman reported.

The spokesman said the planes roared in low over the Jordan River near Beit Yosef, 10 miles south of the Sea of Galilee.

No further details of the attack were available immediately.

The army also said it intercepted and drove back a band of saboteurs who had crossed from Jordan into Israel near Massada, just south of Galilee Wednesday night.

The spokesman said Israeli troops found an assault rifle and a bag of antipersonnel mines in a search of the area.

Jordan reported earlier that armed Israeli helicopters struck at Jordanian forces in the southern desert Wednesday and that a Jordanian soldier was killed.

There was no admission of the attack from the Israelis, but the same area along the Jordanian-Israeli frontier was the scene of an Israeli helicopter attack Tuesday in which three Jordanian security police were killed.

A Jordanian spokesman in Amman said that on Wednesday five Israeli helicopters crossed the frontier with a jet fighter escort and machine-gunned Jordanians near the frontier village of Gharandal, 40 miles north of the port of Aqaba. In addition to the soldier killed, two civilians were wounded in the attack, the spokesman said.

The attack was reported less than 12 hours after the U.N. Security Council condemned Israel for the commando raid Saturday in which 13 Lebanese commandos were killed.

U.S. Sets New Traffic Toll Record; Only 12 Die In Ohio

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic accidents claimed a record toll of lives for a one-day New Year's observance during the holiday period which ended at midnight Wednesday.

Late reports pushed the count to 161 early today.

The record for a 30-hour New Year's period since World War II had been 160, set in 1957. This also was the most recent time the holiday driving period ran 30 hours.

During a recent nonholiday midweek period of equal length, highway mishaps took the lives of 107 persons. The count was made by The Associated Press for a comparison with the New Year's toll.

Ohio motorists surprised safety experts again over the New Year's holiday by recording only 12 traffic deaths.

Highway safety officials had predicted that 22 people would die in traffic during the 30-hour period from 6 p.m. Tuesday until midnight Wednesday.

It was the second straight holiday in which Ohio traffic deaths fell considerably short of predictions. Over Christmas only eight traffic deaths were posted against a forecast of 22. The New Year's toll included only one multiple-death accident, a car-train crash in Cincinnati which took three lives.

Bad driving weather was common throughout the Pacific Northwest, over much of the Great Lakes region and in a large part of the Northeast during the holiday.

Last week's one-day Christmas driving period accounted for 231 traffic deaths.

The low toll for a one-day New Year's observance was 93 in 1946. During the three-day 1967 New Year's holiday, the toll was 376.

The period surveyed by the AP for comparison purposes ran from 6 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 10 to midnight Wednesday, Dec. 11.

Slayer Of Four Shoots Self As Police Close In

WESTERNVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Ralph MacLachlan, a meat cutter who shot and killed his estranged wife and three other persons in a Wednesday night rampage, put a bullet through his head today as officers closed in, police reported.

Mrs. MacLachlan, 3, was shot as she and members of her family sat in their home in this central New York village. Her sister, Mrs. Jane Turke Ringrose, 35, and Mrs. Ringrose's 12-year-old daughter, Barbara, were killed at the same time. The other four occupants of the house were wounded before MacLachlan left.

Police said he then ran to the next-door home of Mrs. James Pepper, apparently to try to get the Pepper automobile. Mrs. Pepper's 10-year-old son, James Jr., was fatally wounded.

Mrs. Pepper was critically wounded, as were three other persons. Mrs. Pepper was shot in the head and spine.

Two other of her children saved their lives by hiding in a closet.

MacLachlan, officers said, stole a jeep from a service station and began a flight into the rough country of the Adirondack mountains that sit just above Westernville.

Early today the blue jeep was spotted by state troopers Dominick DePaola Jr., and Thomas Buck and they gave chase. MacLachlan fired three shots through the windshield of the troopers' automobile, then retreated inside a tractor sales house in the hamlet of Remsen, 10 miles east of Westernville.

DePaola and Buck were reinforced and volleys of shots were exchanged before MacLachlan shot himself to death.

No motive was established immediately, but officers said MacLachlan and his wife had been separated for about two weeks. MacLachlan, 37, was a 6-foot-2 out doorsman. He worked in Oneida, N.Y.

Nixon Stays On West Coast, Gets Health Checkup Today

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President-elect Nixon gets his first thorough physical examination in 14 months today. A spokesman described it as a routine checkup.

Nixon is seeing Dr. John Lungren of Long Beach, his longtime personal physician, for an examination expected to last about 2½ hours. Lungren traveled with the President-elect during the campaign and said then the candidate's health was excellent.

Press assistant Ronald L. Ziegler said the visit to Lungren was routine. He said Nixon has such a checkup about once a year.

Nixon was to drop in later at a luncheon honoring Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch of California, who is to be his secretary of health, education and welfare.

Tonight, the President-elect and his wife will go to Anaheim for what is billed as a welcome home to his native Orange County. That is being held at the arena of the Anaheim Convention Center, and it apparently will amount to a testimonial rally.

Tax Referendum Petitions Filed

Petitions for a referendum on the new city income tax were filed Tuesday with the city auditor.

The 44 referendum petitions with 651 signatures were delivered to City Auditor Marvene Turner by Jim Locke about 11:30 a.m. Tuesday.

If enough of the petition signatures are declared valid a referendum on the city income tax will be held at the time of the November general election, according to city officials.

But the coming referendum does not prevent the city from collecting the tax until the election.

THE one half of one per cent income tax will be withheld from local paychecks beginning with the payday of the first complete work week of the new year. Vacation pay, however, which was earned last year, will not be taxed in 1969 but will be taxed beginning with 1970.

The tax is expected to bring the city additional revenues of $200,000 a year if it is approved by city voters. First of the new revenues will be received by the city at the April quarterly payments.

"The first year will be expensive," according to Mrs. Turner. New bookkeeping machinery, clerks and mailing equipment will have to be obtained by the city. The city will also require the assistance of an adviser to set up the tax system. His salary is estimated at $10,000 a year.

The petition asking for a public vote on the tax issue will remain at the office of the auditor for ten days to be inspected by local citizens and to permit those who signed the petition to withdraw their names if they so desire, according to Marvene Turner.

After the tea day period the auditor will certify the petition to the county board of elections so that the issue may be placed on the ballots for the general election.

Leading the drive for the referendum were Don Mason, Jim Locke and Norman Ritter. The 651 signatures they presented requesting the referendum represents about twice the number of signatures necessary, according to a member of the board of elections, who stated that only 319 signatures or 10 percent of the number of city voters participating in the last gubernatorial election, were required.

Brown Favors Later Primary

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said Thursday he favored changing the state's primary election from May to August.

"The public gets tired of all the campaigning," Brown explained. "This is going to come."

The primary date change was one of the proposals made by Sidney Weil Jr., co-chairman of the Hamilton County Democratic Party, in a letter to Brown.

Hocus - Pocus In Detroit Poverty Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal investigators have discovered that hundreds of high school graduates—and even some college students—have collected government paychecks under Detroit antipoverty programs set up to provide jobs and training for high school dropouts.

In a report to Congress, the General Accounting Office cited this as one of "a number of discrepancies" it found in examining Neighborhood Youth Corps programs in Detroit, where slums were scarred by a major riot in 1967.

The 82-page report also disclosed that:

—Inadequate screening allowed some youths to receive federal assistance even though their families did not meet the antipoverty program's low-income criteria.

—Antipoverty officials made little or no attempt to follow up on the progress of youths who completed training, and thus had no way to gauge the programs' effectiveness.

—Sponsoring organizations indirectly used federal funds to help pay the local share of the programs' cost, and local sponsors paid only half their required 10 per cent.

—The "weaknesses cited went undetected for months because federal officials assigned to insure compliance with antipoverty program requirements "were performing very little monitoring of the NYC sponsor activities in Detroit.

The Associated Press reported last April 10 that GAO investigators were delving into operations of the poverty fighting efforts in Detroit, one of two cities in the nation whose central antipoverty agency is an arm of city government rather than an independent profit corporation.

The other is Chicago.

The GAO report centered on 16 neighborhood Youth Corps programs sponsored in fiscal 1966 and 1967 by one of three organizations—the Mayor's Committee for Human Resources Development, the city Board of Education and the Roman Cath-

Party To Mark Anniversary Of Blaiberg's New Heart

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the longest surviving heart transplant patient, planned a dinner party tonight to celebrate the first anniversary of his operation.

"I feel even better than I did years before the operation," said the chubby, mustached 59-year-old dentist who received a new lease on life when Dr. Christiaan Barnard's transplant team gave him a new heart at Groote Schuur Hospital last Jan. 2.

Barnard was invited to the anniversary dinner.

Blaiberg said he took a glass of wine Wednesday, his first since the operation.

"On that score you're behind me," Blaiberg was told by the Rev. Charles Boulogne the French Dominican monk who is No. 2 in length of survival for heart transplant patients. "I've been drinking for a long time now."

The two men talked briefly in a Paris-Cape Town telephone hookup arranged by a French radio station. Boulogne received his new heart last May 12.

Except for a crisis that almost required a second heart transplant and kept him in the hospital 118 days last summer, Blaiberg has led a fairly normal life.

He drives his own car, goes swimming, attends shows, receives visiting celebrities and several times a week has friends to tea at his apartment.

However, he still walks with a slight limp and has to follow a strict regimen, including 10 minutes taking medicines four times a day. He has a medical checkup twice a week but no special attention.

YMCA Education Courses Set To Begin Winter Schedule

The YMCA Winter Informal Education schedule was announced today by "Y" Director Harold Hewitt.

According to the announcement, the 8-week classes will begin Jan. 20, and will end March 13. Classes, he said, will be conducted in the Community Methodist Church, the Circleville Junior High, the Armory, and the Red Cross Building.

Special discounts will be given, again, to YMCA members, husbands and wives enrolled in the same courses and senior citizens 65 and over.

Five new classes have been added to the winter schedule, he said. These classes in identifying and restoring antiques, women's and girl's self defense, photography, federal taxation, and auto know-how, we hope will have an appeal to a large number of people.

Classes continued from the fall session are: investment and securities, interior decorating, flower arranging, painting, women's physical fitness, men's physical fitness, adult guitar, cake decorating, knitting, sewing and hatmaking, intermediate bridge, men's noon conditioning, and newspaper ad publicity writing.

In addition to the 19 adult classes, Hewitt commented, we are adding classes for teenagers. For this session we are offering guitar instructions and baton twirling. Other youth classes are being considered and will be organized as interests are indicated.

Registration for all classes will begin immediately and will continue until the class quotas are reached or the cut-off date of Jan. 17. All registrations must be made personally or by mail, and accompanied by class fees. Information can be obtained on the program by calling the YMCA office at 474-8621.

The "Y" director further commented that, to date over 110 adults and youth have participated in the YMCA informal education programs. Plans call for an 8-week spring session to start April 14. Courses to be offered will include lawn and garden care, golf instructions and hand-writing analysis.

Draft Laws Explained

EDITOR'S NOTE: In an effort to create a greater public understanding of the laws and regulations governing the induction of personnel into the Armed Forces, the Selective Service System has prepared a series of pertinent questions and corresponding responses concerning provisions of the draft law. Here is another in the series.

Q: When I transferred from junior college to our State University some credits I had earned were not accepted. That meant I had less than the required percentage of course completion to be eligible for a II-S student deferment. What might my status be now?

A: The local board may, in its discretion, grant a II-S deferment to you for the first year after your transfer, subject to reevaluation at the end of that year, based on the work accomplished at the new institution.

Q: As a widow with grown children, I would like to give some time to the Selective Service System. I understand the law was recently changed and women can now serve as members on a local board. Is this true and, if so, what are the qualifications?

A: The current selective service law does not restrict membership on a local board to only males. The qualification are as follows: must be a citizen of the United States; a resident of the county in which the local board has jurisdiction and who shall also, if at all practicable, be a resident of the area in which the local board has jurisdiction; the individual must be at least 30 years of age; and cannot be a member of the armed forces or any reserve component thereof.

Q: I am a junior in high school, age 17½. My doctor says I will not be drafted because I have high blood pressure. Will I still have to register and take a physical examination?

A: You must register with Selective Service upon reaching age 18 or within 5 days thereafter. Later, when you complete and return your questionnaire to your local board, you may attach any medical documentation which you believe might have a bearing on your physical condition. In most cases, you will be required to take a physical examination given by the armed forces to determine your acceptability.

Local Youth Grange Hosts Conference

This coming Saturday many grange youth will be attending the second district youth conference being held at the 4-H and Grange building.

This meeting is being sponsored by the Pickaway Grange Youth organization and is the first of the many activities held yearly for grange members.

The program begins at 9:30 a.m. with devotions by the chaplain, Debbie Archer. Following this the youth chairman, Paul Dunkle, will introduce state officers and youth chairmen from other counties. Throughout the day activities have been scheduled for those in attendance ranging from singing and dancing to talks by the Ohio State Grange Master James Ross and Mrs. Ross.

Among those attending this conference will be youth from Licking, Ross, Fairfield, Franklin, Adams, and Hocking Counties. In addition the Ohio State Grange Prince and Princess will attend the meeting with the State Lecturer and State Secretary.

reasons are potential school dropouts." The third was intended to give summer jobs to disadvantaged youths. In each category, the enrollees were paid at least $1.25 an hour.

In its report, the GAO questioned the eligibility of more than half the 2,582 enrollees in an out-of-school program sponsored by the mayor's committee.

It said an examination of the files of 794 participants showed that 263—or nearly one third—were high school graduates. Only six of the 263 files contained the required "written justification" for allowing the graduates to receive federal paychecks.

"The review indicated that about 15 enrollees (in the program for dropouts) were attending college or were planning to attend in the fall..." the report said. It said still another spot check turned up a dozen more enrollees who "had expressed an interest in or were attending college."

This occurred, the report said, in a city where 7,000 students dropped out of school in a single year. It added: "We believe that the comparison of the significant number of school dropouts who are potential enrollees for the out-of-school program, with the large percentage of high school graduates who have been accepted into the out-of-school program in Detroit, indicates the need for the MCHRD (Mayor's Committee) to direct its recruiting efforts to school dropouts and the limited number of high school graduates which the program is designed to benefit."

Losses Reflect Saigon's Effort

SAIGON (AP) — The year 1968 ended with the lowest weekly American death toll since the bombing of North Vietnam ended, the U.S. Command reported today. But the number of South Vietnamese dead was the highest in three months, indicating an increasing part in the war by the Saigon government's troops.

The reported toll of enemy dead was as usual, above 2,000 and five times the allied total.

Communiques today reflected the recent changed nature of the war—small, widely scattered ground actions, the uncovering of more enemy supply dumps, and the shelling of allied posts coupled with enemy hit-and-run attacks.

The death of 113 American servicemen Christmas week was the lowest in 10 weeks. South Vietnamese losses in the same week were 279 dead, the highest in 13 weeks, while 2,135 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were reported killed.

The casualty report covered the Christmas truce period, and the figures indicated the cease-fire was only nominally observed.

The cease-fire declared by the Viet Cong command for New Year's ended early today, and shortly after two American bases and one South Vietnamese post were shelled.

No significant ground action was reported, although American and South Vietnamese troops were patrolling up and down the country.

North Vietnam claimed its gunners in Ha Bac Province brought down a pilotless U.S. reconnaissance plane today. The U.S. Command does not comment on the activities of pilotless planes over the North.

Since the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands did not declare a New Year's truce this year, there was no question of any violations. A U.S. spokesman said the war "went on at about the same level—it wasn't as bad as it has been and it wasn't as good as it could be."

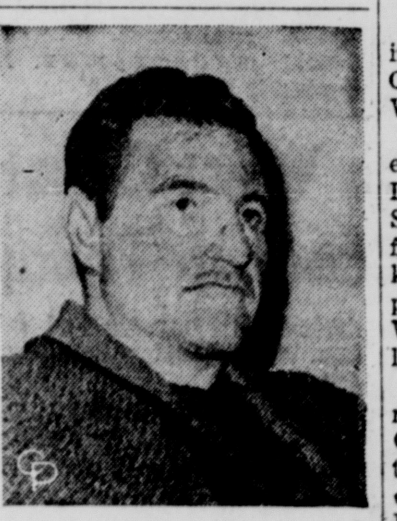

The Viet Cong cease-fire ended at 1 a.m. Saigon time—about the time millions of Americans were turning on television sets to watch the annual bowl games.

Within a few minutes about 10 enemy shells burst on the U.S. Marine airfield at Marble Mountain, near Da Nang. A few hours later an artillery base of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division 60 miles north of Saigon was hit by about 65 mortar rounds. Casualties and damage were light, officers reported.

Harper was southbound on the road near the intersection of Cox Road about 3:15 a.m. when the accident happened, according to a report by Sheriff's Deputy Bill Dountz.

Harper told the deputy that he lost control of the car on a sharp curve. The car, which was traveling at 70 miles per hour, went off the side of the road and struck a pole and fence, according to the sheriff's report.

The driver was cited for excessive speed for the road and conditions and for reckless operation of the car.

mercantile aircraft were destroyed at Beirut's International Airport.

Because of the Beirut airport attack, London underwriters announced a 500 per cent increase in war risk insurance rates for goods shipped to or from Israel and half a dozen of her Arab neighbors. For example, $240 worth of coverage will cost 90 cents instead of 18.

The spokesman also said insurance costs will double for cargoes outside the Middle East if they are shipped aboard vessels owned by or sailing under the flag of Israel or any of the six Arab nations.

Two Circleville men were injured in a one-car mishap on Chillicothe - Williamsport Road Wednesday morning.

Taken to Berger Hospital for emergency treatment were Larry Harper, 21, of 512 E. Ohio St., driver of the vehicle, suffering from abrasions of the knee and forehead; and a passenger, 22-year-old Bruce Willis, suffering from a lacerated scalp.

Harper was southbound on the road near the intersection of Cox Road about 3:15 a.m. when the accident happened, according to a report by Sheriff's Deputy Bill Dountz.

Harper told the deputy that he lost control of the car on a sharp curve. The car, which was traveling at 70 miles per hour, went off the side of the road and struck a pole and fence, according to the sheriff's report.

The driver was cited for excessive speed for the road and conditions and for reckless operation of the car.

YMCA Education Courses Set To Begin Winter Schedule

The YMCA Winter Informal Education schedule was announced today by "Y" Director Harold Hewitt.

According to the announcement, the 8-week classes will begin Jan. 20, and will end March 13. Classes, he said, will be conducted in the Community Methodist Church, the Circleville Junior High, the Armory, and the Red Cross Building.

Special discounts will be given, again, to YMCA members, husbands and wives enrolled in the same courses and senior citizens 65 and over.

Five new classes have been added to the winter schedule, he said. These classes in identifying and restoring antiques, women's and girl's self defense, photography, federal taxation, and auto know-how, we hope will have an appeal to a large number of people.

Classes continued from the fall session are: investment and securities, interior decorating, flower arranging, painting, women's physical fitness, men's physical fitness, adult guitar, cake decorating, knitting, sewing and hatmaking, intermediate bridge, men's noon conditioning, and newspaper ad publicity writing.

In addition to the 19 adult classes, Hewitt commented, we are adding classes for teenagers. For this session we are offering guitar instructions and baton twirling. Other youth classes are being considered and will be organized as interests are indicated.

Registration for all classes will begin immediately and will continue until the class quotas are reached or the cut-off date of Jan. 17. All registrations must be made personally or by mail, and accompanied by class fees. Information can be obtained on the program by calling the YMCA office at 474-8621.

The "Y" director further commented that, to date over 110 adults and youth have participated in the YMCA informal education programs. Plans call for an 8-week spring session to start April 14. Courses to be offered will include lawn and garden care, golf instructions and handwriting analysis.

Draft Laws Explained

EDITOR'S NOTE: In an effort to create a greater public understanding of the laws and regulations governing the induction of personnel into the Armed Forces, the Selective Service System has prepared a series of pertinent questions and corresponding responses concerning provisions of the draft law. Here is another in the series.

Q: When I transferred from junior college to our State University some credits I had earned were not accepted. That meant I had less than the required percentage of course completion to be eligible for a II-S student deferment. What might my status be now?

A: The local board may, in its discretion, grant a II-S deferment to you for the first year after your transfer, subject to reevaluation at the end of that year, based on the work accomplished at the new institution.

Q: As a widow with grown children, I would like to give some time to the Selective Service System. I understand the law was recently changed and women can now serve as members on a local board. Is this true and, if so, what are the qualifications?

A: The current selective service law does not restrict membership on a local board to only males. The qualification are as follows: must be a citizen of the United States; a resident of the county in which the local board has jurisdiction and who shall also, if at all practicable, be a resident of the area in which the local board has jurisdiction; the individual must be at least 30 years of age; and cannot be a member of the armed forces or any reserve component thereof.

Q: I am a junior in high school, age 17½. My doctor says I will not be drafted because I have high blood pressure. Will I still have to register and take a physical examination?

A: You must register with Selective Service upon reaching age 18 or within 5 days thereafter. Later, when you complete and return your questionnaire to your local board, you may attach any medical documentation which you believe might have a bearing on your physical condition. In most cases, you will be required to take a physical examination given by the armed forces to determine your aptitude.

reasons are potential school dropouts." The third was intended to give summer jobs to disadvantaged youths. In each category, the enrollees were paid at least $1.25 an hour.

In its report, the GAO questioned the eligibility of more than half the 2,592 enrollees in an out-of-school program sponsored by the mayor's committee.

It said an examination of the files of 794 participants showed that 263—or nearly one third—were high school graduates. Only six of the 263 files contained the required "written justification" for allowing the graduates to receive federal paychecks.

"The review indicated that about 15 enrollees (in the program for dropouts) were attending college or were planning to attend in the fall..." the report said. It said still another spot check turned up a dozen more enrollees who "had expressed an interest in or were attending college."

This occurred, the report said, in a city where 7,000 students dropped out of school in a single year. It added: "We believe that the comparison of the significant number of school dropouts who are potential enrollees for the out-of-school program, with the large percentage of high school graduates who have been accepted into the out-of-school program in Detroit, indicates the need for the MCHRD (Mayor's Committee) to direct its recruiting efforts to school dropouts and the limited number of high school graduates which the program is designed to benefit."

Stolen Car Wrecked Near Lancaster

An automobile stolen in Circleville Wednesday was wrecked near Lancaster.

The driver of the wrecked vehicle, Billy Joe Johnson, was arrested by the Lancaster Ohio State Highway Patrol Post.

The owner of the car, Paul R. Wellington, 706 Clinton St., did not realize the car was stolen until this morning.

Wellington told Circleville Police of the theft at about 8 p.m. All law enforcement agencies in the state were notified of the theft, and almost immediately the Lancaster Patrol Post informed police of the accident.

Two passengers in the car, William and Mary Sowards, along with Johnson, have been charged with auto larceny by police.

Stocks Rally To Open '69

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market started 1969 with a crackling rally. Prices were substantially higher early this afternoon.

Gains outnumbered losses by more than 300 issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.3 at 358.6 with industrials up 3.2, rails up .2 and utilities up .2.

Gains of fractions to 1 or 2 points predominated in the list. The market rose from the start and, without the benefit of any particular news, brokers saw the market as responding to normal reinvestment demand and to the absence of tax-loss selling which was carried on right to the closing day of the 1968 market.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 6.21 at 949.96.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

Losses Reflect Saigon's Effort

SAIGON (AP) — The year 1968 ended with the lowest weekly American death toll since the bombing of North Vietnam ended, the U.S. Command reported today. But the number of South Vietnamese dead was the highest in three months, indicating an increasing part in the war by the Saigon government's troops.

The reported toll of enemy dead was as usual, above 2,000 and five times the allied total.

Communiques today reflected the recent changed nature of the war—small, widely scattered ground actions, the uncovering of more enemy supply dumps, and the shelling of allied posts coupled with enemy hit-and-run attacks.

The death of 113 American servicemen Christmas week was the lowest in 10 weeks. South Vietnamese losses in the same week were 279 dead, the highest in 13 weeks, while 2,135 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were reported killed.

The casualty report covered the Christmas truce period, and the figures indicated the cease-fire was only nominally observed.

The cease-fire declared by the Viet Cong command for New Year's ended early today, and shortly after two American bases and one South Vietnamese post were shelled.

No significant ground action was reported, although American and South Vietnamese troops were patrolling up and down the country.

New Effort Made To Get Talks Moving

PARIS (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Cyrus R. Vance met today with a North Vietnamese envoy in a new attempt to get the stalled Paris peace talks moving. It was the first American-North Vietnamese meeting in two weeks.

Vance's session with Col. Ha Van Lau took place at a secret rendezvous believed to be somewhere in the suburb of Sceaux south of Paris.

Their meeting at American initiative suggested some shift may have taken place in the attitude assumed by the Saigon government on the tangled problem of the shape of the conference table.

The Saigon government had set itself positively against accepting a North Vietnamese proposal for making the Paris parley a roundtable affair. In Saigon's view this would give the Viet Cong the appearance of independence and equality.

The United States had been ready to accept the roundtable offer believing it would have been accepted widely as a symbol of compromise. Accordingly, in recent days Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker has been in contact with President Nguyen Van Thieu in Saigon presumably going over the concept of allied attitudes toward the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front.

New Space Era Entered

The seeming ease with which the circling of the moon was accomplished by Apollo 8 — the first time man had cut away from earth's gravitational pull — belied the tremendous effort that went into the feat.

American crews had trained for this moment over 22 million miles in space and through 802 revolutions of the earth.

From the tiniest transistor to the 35-story-tall Saturn 5 rocket, equipment was developed to withstand forces and temperature changes never experienced before.

The flight of Astronauts Borman, Lovell and Anders represented the culmination of the work of 350,000 people employed by the government and 20,000 contracting companies.

Should anything have gone wrong requiring an emergency descent, 35,000 members of the Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force were strung around the world to effect their recovery.

The question whether all this was worth the possible gain never will be answered to everyone's satisfaction. To some, space exploration will remain a senseless waste of resources and a needless risk of lives. To others, especially those directly involved, it is as necessary to man's progress as the first voyage across an uncharted sea.

The tangible byproducts of space exploration are at work making life easier. Medical adaptations are prolonging lives. And the intangible benefits are beyond calculation.

Dockers Deluxe

Hawaiian members of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union have come up with a dandy new fringe benefit. In their new contract with the operator of several hotels in Hawaii, the longshoremen are given free use of hotel golf courses along with free golf carts.

On the mainland, longshoremen from Maine to Texas are out on strike. Maybe more longshoremen should take up golf.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Will everything be fine in 1969?

Our annual peek into the clouded crystal ball of the future doesn't permit us to be unyieldingly affirmative. But, on the other hand, we can't be altogether negative.

It looks like a roller coaster year, characterized by ups and downs and emergent uncertainties.

The biggest question is what will happen to money. For years the value of money has been eroding and the value of credit has increased. As our gallop into inflation gains headway many of our more serious minds may be faced with a crisis of decision: Whether to give up on money as a lost cause and depend totally upon credit, which is more fun anyway.

The moon will become a vexing problem to geographers. Soviet Russia will put five cosmonauts and a poet in lunar orbit. The cosmonauts will methodically rename every crater named by the three American astronauts. The poet will return with the first ode to the proletariat composed in true moon-glow. Its title, translated into English, will be: "What Is the Working Man without Moon-shine?"

The United Nations will continue its relentless war against malaria throughout the world but turn its back upon a more dangerous disease—the uncurbed spread of pandemic political malarkey.

Elsewhere on the international front these things will occur: In Britain, Queen Elizabeth will calm a parliamentary crisis over the traffic problem by suggesting that, while the rest of the world drives on the right side of the road and Britons traditionally on the left side, in the future everyone should be free to drive down the middle of the road.

In France, Gen. Charles de Gaulle will succumb to his physician's advice and buy a pair of bifocal glasses. His first remark

East Ohio Gas Co. Announces Budget

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The East Ohio Gas Co. said today its capital budget for 1969 will be $24,665,000 and spending through 1972 is expected to top $100 million.

The 1969 budget is 9.2 per cent over that of 1968.

NEW YORK (AP) — Will everything be fine in 1969?

Our annual peek into the clouded crystal ball of the future doesn't permit us to be unyieldingly affirmative. But, on the other hand, we can't be altogether negative.

It looks like a roller coaster year, characterized by ups and downs and emergent uncertainties.

The biggest question is what will happen to money. For years the value of money has been eroding and the value of credit has increased. As our gallop into inflation gains headway many of our more serious minds may be faced with a crisis of decision: Whether to give up on money as a lost cause and depend totally upon credit, which is more fun anyway.

The moon will become a vexing problem to geographers. Soviet Russia will put five cosmonauts and a poet in lunar orbit. Elsewhere on the international front these things will occur: In Britain, Queen Elizabeth will calm a parliamentary crisis over the traffic problem by suggesting that, while the rest of the world drives on the right side of the road and Britons traditionally on the left side, in the future everyone should be free to drive down the middle of the road.

In France, Gen. Charles de Gaulle will succumb to his physician's advice and buy a pair of bifocal glasses. His first remark upon peering through them: "Eh, bien la, mon cosmos."

In China, home of the firecracker, larger explosions will ensue.

Here in America, look for these possibilities: Lyndon B. Johnson will become our leading political sage in exile. He will turn down offers to become a columnist for both the New York Times and Ramparts magazine.

President Nixon will appoint new committees to find new solutions for old problems that Former President Johnson appointed earlier committees to solve. They will report back unanimously: "Something ought to be done sometime by somebody about everything."

The cost of living will go up and the joy in living stay about the same. Everyone over 40 will ask himself the age-old middle-aged question, "When does the fun begin?"

In a revolutionary experiment financed by the Ford and Carnegie foundations, teen-agers will launch an experimental university with themselves as faculty. Anyone over 65 will be able to attend tuition free.

Science will develop a birth control pill for men. Most men will immediately decide this is more than they'll swallow.

News oddity of the year: An obscure cow in Iowa will deliver five live calves. The U.S. Department of Agriculture will hail her as "bovine mother of the year" and send her, the proud father and their small herd on a tax-paid round trip to Hawaii.

As to the weather: Snow in widespread areas in January, intermittent sunshine and rain east and west of the Mississippi River from April to November. Summary: All in all, a year the human race can put up with but one in which most will inescapably become 365 days older.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

IF YOU'RE INTERESTED in collective nouns like "a pride of lions" or "a gaggle of geese," you'll like some of James Lipton's suggestions in his new book, "An Exaltation of Larks": "a sneer of butlers," along with "a wince of dentists," a "tantrum of decorators," "a slant of journalists," and "a slouch of models," and "a puce of straphangers."

There was a time in the good old days in Hollywood when the Four Marx Brothers signed to star in a picture called "A Night in Camelot" for Warner Brothers, and the Warner legal department was rash enough to demand a final script before shelling out a fortune for production costs. Groucho found this demand restrictive and wrote Warner's as follows: "Dear Brothers: Since I last discussed our picture with you, I regret to state that we have made a few minor changes in the plot. In the new version, I now play Borsello, the sweetheart of Humphrey Bogart. Harpo and Chico are itinerant rug peddlers who are weary of laying rugs and enter a monastery just for a lark. This is a good joke on them for it develops there hasn't been a lark in the place for fifteen years. Shall I continue?"

The Brothers Warner decided he didn't have to. "Just make the picture your way," they beseeched.

Father to frustrated student: "I've got to say one thing in your favor. With your marks you couldn't possibly be cheating."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have just about passed through my change of life. The moderate discomfort is bearable when I do not allow myself to become emotionally distressed. It has now been suggested that I take a hormone and continue to take it for a long period of time. Is there any danger in its use?

Mrs. L. E. Virginia Dear Mrs. E.: There are now a great many general physicians and specialists in the diseases of women who have been using female sex hormones or estrogens before, during, and after the change of life. There are still other physicians who have rejected the long continued use of hormones after the menopause. Despite the lack of universal agreement, there seems to be a growing awareness that the estrogens can be exceedingly beneficial in relieving unpleasant symptoms and even in increasing the general tone of the body at this time of life.

The decision to use a hormone is, of course, an individual evaluation of every case by the physician who has followed the patient and noted the special need for hormones. He alone can determine that need and establish a program for treatment which should be followed only as long as he feels it is necessary. When the doctor has his patient under his supervision and balances her good health with the amount of the drug and the duration, then and only then can it be said that these hormone treatments are exceedingly safe.

There are some very special medical conditions that do not permit the use of hormones. These, of course, are anticipated by the physician and his decision depends on his total knowledge of the patient. My child cut her lip and I took her to the emergency room of a nearby hospital. The only doctor available was an intern who sewed the wound and sent us home. Should an intern be allowed to take such a responsibility? Mrs. S. R., New Jersey Dear Mrs. R.: The one thing you did not mention was how well the wound healed. This might have answered the question without any special concern. Let me tell you exactly who an intern is. He is a physician, a full-fledged doctor, who has chosen to get additional training when he might be your

The Business World

By LISA CRONIN (For John Cumiff)

NEW YORK (AP) — The belief that the economic cycle of boom-bust has been destroyed is more a declaration of faith than a provable fact. The fact is that it takes a lot of faith in this economy to ignore some warning signals.

The most obvious of these is the fierce — for the United States, that is — rate of inflation. Because costs are rising 4 to 5 per cent a year, individuals and corporations are plunging now to avoid higher prices tomorrow.

The result is that some of the building and buying that ordinarily would take place sometime in 1969 already has been completed. Whether 1970's spending will be done in 1969 remains to be seen. But advance spending can't go on forever.

The most the Nixon administration can do is ease the slowdown that must occur sometime in the future, but there is no certainty that this breaking can be accomplished without a jolt, for inflation has taken a firm hold.

Pierre Rinfret, a former Nixon economist, told his corporate clients this week: "We would not be surprised to see more price increases in the period Jan. 21, 1969, to Jan. 31, 1969, than at any time in the post-war."

He reasons that the Democrats exerted strong verbal controls over corporate price increases but that Nixon, by contrast, has pledged to reduce intervention in the free enterprise system.

"That means to us that we are going to witness, in 1969, a great deal of price catching-up. Those industries that have not been permitted to raise prices are going to do so in 1969," Rinfret says.

Any big increases will offer evidence to wage earners that they also need increases in order to maintain their standard of living. And so the inflationary spiral could whirl uncontrolled as a cyclone.

Short of mandatory dictatorial controls, the U.S. economy cannot be made to respond perfectly. At most, the managers of our economy can maintain a balance of power between sellers-buyers, employees-employers.

In America you hesitate to use force directly in order to make a free enterprise move in a specific direction. More subtle, indirect methods must be used and by their nature they are less effective. But this is the price of freedom and economic vitality.

The indirect methods generally are persuasion, public indignation, taxes, the availability of money from the Federal Reserve, government spending and interest rates. These mechanisms motivate or subdue, but fall short of dictating.

Because they are imperfect — if not in theory then in application — they cannot be relied upon as foolproof assurance that the boom-bust cycle is ended. The inability to contain inflation is proof of this.

Morris' New University

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Long ago I stopped crying over "humanity." It doesn't help individual people: in fact, by encouraging the hand-out spirit, it hurts them in their self-esteem, destroys their ability to function in the workaday world, leaves them with no incentive to learn new skills, and results in the "third generation on relief" phenomenon. Of course, this marks me down as a curmudgeonly soul in the estimation of contemporary liberals.

But it leaves me free to be interested in individual accomplishment, which is the thing that gives savor to life and hope for the "humanity." I refuse to cry over it. It isn't even true that you need massive "federal aid to education" for an individual to get a new university started. There is Rockford College in Rockford, Illinois, which John Howard keeps expanding on the reputation which he has made by his strict refusal to accept federal funds. There is Unipac College near New Haven, Connecticut, which paid its formative way out of tuitions and has recently moved to a new campus more beautiful than Yale's. Finally, there is Dr. Robert Morris' new University of Plano, outside of Dallas, Texas.

Bob Morris used to be what William Rusher calls a "veritable connoisseur of Communism," able to distinguish between the subtlest shades of the numerous creeds sheltered in that vast temple. The business of Communist subversion calls for delicate understanding, which Bob supplied when, as counsel, he was in active charge of the U.S. Senate's Internal Security Subcommittee. This was more than a decade ago; since then the break-up of Stalin's monolithic empire has made subversion more a matter of loose morals and deficient patriotic feeling than it is one of conspiratorial burrowing. Bob, always one to go "where the action is," after the decline of the Stalinist menace, moved out of the Northeast to Texas to become President of the University of Dallas. He wanted a career as a professional educator.

Standard education, however, gave way to a special interest when Bob noted that one of his seven children, William, was growing up with a reading deficiency. The cause, as it was ascertained, was neurological, going back to a birth injury from momentary lack of oxygen. A slow developer, William had missed the "creeping and crawling stage" of infancy; Dr. Glenn Doman of the Institutes for Achievement in Philadelphia told Bob that if William could be put through a "patterning" regimen of creeping and crawling it would focus his eyes, help reserve cells take over for an injured brain area, and prepare the way for normal speech development.

Bob was so impressed with his child's improvement after retracing the average child's "developmental pathway" that he began to wonder if most of our school drop-outs were victims of what had plagued young William. A congenital "can do" man, Bob decided on an experiment: he would start a college of "developmental education" in Dallas, taking drop-outs and giving them therapy to establish the connection between the objective world, the focusing eye, and the brain. It was a wild idea, but Bob is convinced that it has worked out.

Britain's Queen Elizabeth II is reportedly concerned because, despite rising costs and higher taxes, her royal expense allowance has not been increased a farthing since 1952. As Shakespeare was wont to say: "Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown!"

Liz's allowance is $1.14 million a year — is said to be worth only half as much in buying power as it was in 1952. No wonder her majesty may feel she's getting a royal run-around.

However, there are many of us who still think $470,000 in buying power is still a queenly sum!

Even before mid-December, the New York City Fire Department announced it had answered more than 200,000 alarms during 1968 — exceeding the 172,000 alarms for all of 1967. As we've always insisted — NYC is a pretty hot town.

Famed Top Editor Of 'Billboard' Bows Out

By BYRON BEARD
Associated Press Writer
CINCINNATI (AP) — There are showmen, and then there is Bill Sachs. No one upstages him—even in retirement.

Few show people know him from afar, this man who somehow long ago "lost" the given name William J. and became to be known as "the showman's showman" always good for a soft touch. His warmth and savvy of show business had a lot to do with it.

"The carneys, the hoofers, the comedians—I knew them all," smiled Bill today as he bowed out as executive news editor of the famed "Billboard" magazine. "It was a good time."

The good time was a 44-year stretch on the weekly trade publication known as the Bible of the Amusement World. Sachs pulled every news beat for the magazine during his time.

He's 65, but looks 50. He packs a trim 160 pounds on his 5-foot-9 frame. Newspapermen will tell you he's one of the best in his field.

He's witnessed good and bad times of show business, but when he speaks of a person, place or incident of bygone years you get the feeling it was worth it.

Take Bob Hope, for instance. "I knew Bob when he started in the business," said Sachs. "That was in 1924. Most people think he started in Vaudeville—but he actually started in the tab shows—a miniature cross between musical comedy and burlesque."

"Bob first came into the business with Fred Hurley's Tab Show at $40 a week which was playing the circuit in Ohio and Kentucky—as a hoofing juvenile who did a saxophone specialty."

The fledgling Hope was good, says Sachs—and soon outshone the principal comedian.

"But during the first days of Hope's career Hurley told me he thought Bob was vastly overpaid," laughed Sachs.

Of all the beats, Sachs was partial to news of the magician. "In my mind there were three great magicians — Howard Thurston, Dante the Magician (Harry Jansen) and Harry Blackstone. And Houdini was probably the best escape artist."

His reminiscence always include the story of the "final stand" of the professional minstrel show which claimed to be a revival of the famed Al G. Field troupe. Field, of Columbus, Ohio, said Sachs, was not associated with the show.

According to Sachs, the show opened at Cincinnati where "pro-motors of the show purchased "many" pairs of patent leather shoes and tuxedos and continued on their way north without paying for them.

"The sheriff caught up with it just outside Toledo and the show closed. The unsuspecting performers were left stranded at Erie, Mich."

The "Billboard" has changed somewhat since the beginning of the 1960s when operations were split into two publications—"Music Week" and "Amusement Week."

"Music Week" still carries the word "billboard" on its mast. Even today, the magazine is listed as the permanent address of many show people who are on the road constantly. Now the publication is housed on Patterson Street, but for years—even until after World War II—its original home on Opera Place was "home" to thousands of entertainers.

With the disappearance of the Chautauqua—that almost forgotten lyceum of entertainers of the 19th and early 20th centuries—and the emergence of new forms of entertainment, the publication has had to undergo some change.

"We devote a lot of space to music now—with some motion picture space," said Sachs.

What about his "soft touch" he smiled. "There was always a carney or hooper coming into town who needed a ten spot to get to his next show stand. It wasn't much."

Sachs plans to delve into the free-lance writing field—and write a book on the early days of show business. "My publisher has been after me to do it, but I just haven't had the time."

School Enrollment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State School Supt. Martin Essex says Ohio's public school enrollment is 2,395,387—an increase of 36,868 over last year and about 8,500 more than expected this year.

Essex attributed the big jump to vocational and special education courses, which he said had the greatest enrollment increases over the past 10 years.

McCormack Backers Sure Of Overcoming Udall Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of John W. McCormack claim more than enough votes to assure the Massachusetts congressman of retaining his job of speaker of the House.

McCormack, however, despite stating in advance of today's Democratic House caucus that "I am not worried," apparently was not shrugging off the late-blooming challenge to his seven-year reign by Arizona's Morris K. Udall.

The 77-year-old speaker reportedly made some concessions to the liberal-moderate bloc backing the 46-year-old Udall during a meeting Tuesday with representatives of the Democratic Study Group.

The DSG, which claims 140 liberal-moderate members, wants a louder voice in shaping party policies, a more definite work schedule with fixed holiday periods, and less emphasis on seniority in determining key assignments.

Neither Udall, elected for the fifth time the past November, nor his backers were optimistic, hoping just for a "respectable showing" on which to build.

McCormack counts a solid base of 90 votes from the South. But his lieutenants, busy counting noses since Udall made his challenge last week, claim 180 pledged votes. This is far more than the 122 needed.

Selection of a nominee for speaker by the Democrats virtually assures election by the whole House when the 91st Congress convenes Friday since the Democrats hold a 243-192 majority and voting on the Speaker traditionally follows party lines. Nevertheless, as the Democrats are caucusing, the Republicans will be meeting, too, to nominate Michigan's Gerald R. Ford for speaker.

Ford, unopposed in the GOP caucus, will revert to minority leader should McCormack win expected re-election Friday.

The McCormack-Udall contest matches in interest—and probable outcome—a battle for the No. 2 Democratic spot in the Senate.

Although there is far less at stake immediately in the Senate, a bid by Massachusetts' Edward M. Kennedy to grab the whip job from Louisiana's Russell B. Long is regarded as a first step by Kennedy toward a possible 1972 run for the White House.

The test will come at the Senate Democratic caucus Friday and although Kennedy is given only a slim chance of winning, it is expected to mark the emergence of the 36-year-old senator from the role of obedient member of the leadership team to a leader of the liberal bloc.

Republicans in the Senate also have a scrap going for No. 2 man while Illinois' Everett M. Dirksen is unchallenged for minority leader.

The GOP's Friday caucus will decide between Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and Roman Hruska of Nebraska who are vying for the whip job vacated by the primary defeat of California's Thomas H. Kuchel. Hruska is backed by conservatives while Scott is a liberal-moderate.

NICE GIFT? GNAW—Larry Wilkerson, 13, Chicago, listens to bugs gnawing away inside an imported wooden tray his father received for Christmas. Wilkerson was told to give the tray from Taiwan to the United States Customs Office, where experts will cut it open to identify the bugs. The wood eaters inside could be beetles, or Taiwan termites, which are twice as large as their American cousins, and twice as damaging.

Sandy Koufax Weds Widmark's Daughter
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former Los Angeles Dodger pitching ace Sandy Koufax, long considered one of the city's most eligible bachelors, has been taken out of circulation by the 23-year-old daughter of actor Richard Widmark.

Koufax, 32, and Ann Widmark were married New Year's Day at the Widmarks' home in West Los Angeles. Judge Lester Roth conducted the private ceremony.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — You might say with a certain degree of truth that if you've seen one Rose Parade, you've seen them all—the slow-moving floats with their millions of flowers, the pretty smiling girls, the proud bands and horses, the jarring commercial flavor of an occasional entry or TV stars in conspicuous spots.

It matters not at all because watching Pasadena's annual day in the national sun, followed by marathon football viewing, has become established New Year's Day tradition.

This year, it seemed, the floats were more beautiful and more elaborate than ever.

CBS once again had Bess Myerson and Mike Douglas carefully handling the descriptions and the credits. Betty White, who over the years had done NBC's Rose Parade commentary so often she can confidently depart from the program notes, had Raymond Burr sharing the assignment. They worked together nicely and often engaged in funny, spontaneous banter.

Then began the really serious viewing of the day that continued without pause until close to 11 p.m.—The college football games. CBS moved directly to Dallas and the Cotton Bowl, NBC to New Orleans and the Sugar Bowl.

For the occasional football viewer, though, the big game is the Rose Bowl since it is part of the tradition. This year, if one listened to NBC sports announcers Curt Gowdy and Kyle Rote, the program should really have been called "The O.J. Simpson Show."

The University of Southern California's great running star did manage to score a touchdown with an 80-yard run but the afternoon was claimed by Ohio State.

The half-time entertainment by the two universities was impressive and both bands performed with the precision of the June Taylor Dancers.

If all those games were not enough, NBC carried the viewers on to Miami for the Orange Bowl. By that time there must have been a lot of tired eyes across the nation which was a shame since it was the most exciting game of the lot with Penn State winning in the last 15 seconds.

Both networks have plenty of practice covering parades and football games and both do uniformly excellent jobs.

From the occasional football viewer, however, comes one complaint: Occasionally a player will be writhing in agony on the field after a play and the program cuts away for a couple of quick commercials returning when the play is about to be resumed. Nobody bothers to inform the vast and concerned audience about the condition of the injured player.

Now, with the holidays behind, television can slip happily into its second season with a handful of new shows replacing the dropouts—starting next Sunday when NBC's "My Friend

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK AP) — You might say with a certain degree of truth that if you've seen one Rose Parade, you've seen them all—the slow-moving floats with their millions of flowers, the pretty smiling girls, the proud bands and horses, the jarring commercial flavor of an occasional entry or TV stars in conspicuous spots.

It matters not at all because watching Pasadena's annual day in the national sun, followed by marathon football viewing, has become established New Year's Day tradition.

This year, it seemed, the floats were more beautiful and more elaborate than ever.

CBS once again had Bess Myerson and Mike Douglas carefully handling the descriptions and the credits. Betty White, who over the years had done NBC's Rose Parade commentary so often she can confidently depart from the program notes, had Raymond Burr sharing the assignment. They worked together nicely and often engaged in funny, spontaneous banter.

Then began the really serious viewing of the day that continued without pause until close to 11 p.m.—The college football games. CBS moved directly to Dallas and the Cotton Bowl, NBC to New Orleans and the Sugar Bowl.

For the occasional football viewer, though, the big game is the Rose Bowl since it is part of the tradition. This year, if one listened to NBC sports announcers Curt Gowdy and Kyle Rote, the program should really have been called "The O.J. Simpson Show."

The University of Southern California's great running star did manage to score a touchdown with an 80-yard run but the afternoon was claimed by Ohio State.

The half-time entertainment by the two universities was impressive and both bands performed with the precision of the June Taylor Dancers.

If all those games were not enough, NBC carried the viewers on to Miami for the Orange Bowl. By that time there must have been a lot of tired eyes across the nation which was a shame since it was the most exciting game of the lot with Penn State winning in the last 15 seconds.

Both networks have plenty of practice covering parades and football games and both do uniformly excellent jobs.

From the occasional football viewer, however, comes one complaint: Occasionally a player will be writhing in agony on the field after a play and the program cuts away for a couple of quick commercials returning when the play is about to be resumed. Nobody bothers to inform the vast and concerned audience about the condition of the injured player.

Now, with the holidays behind, television can slip happily into its second season with a handful of new shows replacing the dropouts—starting next Sunday when NBC's "My Friend

The Circleville Herald,

NEW DELHI (AP) — Delhi is to have mail boxes in the shape of pigeons.

"Snails would have been better, considering the speed with which the mails travel in India," a commentator wrote.

Tony" replaces the Phyllis Diller show.

Laurelville News

By Mrs. Ray Poling

Mrs. Joe Robinette entertained on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 22, for her daughter, Lee Ann's ninth birthday. Guests included Kim Stinard, Anita Dean, Rachel Fortner, Cheryl Hartman, Leila Brown, Melissa and Kitty Barton, Lori Graves and Colleen Robinette. Lee Ann received a number of gifts and refreshments were served at the close of the party.

Christmas day guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Chilcote were Mr. and Mrs. Don Chilcote, sons Nick and David of Columbus and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bowers of near Amanda and Mrs. Dartha Harmon of Laurelville.

Dr. and Mrs. E. O. (Bud) Kelley and children of Perrysburg spent the holiday week with Mrs. Kelley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Sweptou.

The annual Christmas dinner was enjoyed on Christmas Day at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hartsaugh were hosts at a family dinner and Christmas party at their home on Christmas Eve. Enjoying the festivities were Mr. and Mrs. Vic Pontious, Victor and LuAnne of Amanda, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Faigley, sons Steve and Tim of Lancaster and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hartsaugh and son Doug of Circleville. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hartsaugh and son Jeff of Cleveland visited during the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H.C. Hartsaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Kempton and family left Saturday for a weeks vacation with relatives in Florida.

Mrs. Cliff Armstrong spent the week with Mr. and Mrs.

New Chemist At DuPont

DAVID H. BERKEBILE

Local DuPont officials today announced the appointment of David H. Berkebile to the staff of the Research and Development Laboratory here.

Berkebile, a research chemist, started work here Dec. 4, after completing work for his Ph. D. in organic chemistry at the University of Massachusetts.

He attended Park College at Parkville, Mo., and received his BA degree in chemistry from Austin College at Sherman, Tex. He also did graduate work at the University of Kansas.

A member of the American Chemical Society and the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science, Berkebile and his wife, Paula, reside at 2070 Chippewa Drive.

Moral: Don't Diagnose Your Own Symptoms

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Helen Miller, a housewife who was described as a little overweight, started 1969 by unexpectedly giving birth to a 6-pound girl, although she said she didn't know she was pregnant.

The girl—the 36-year-old Mrs. Miller's only child—arrived at 12:47 a.m. Wednesday, shortly after Mrs. Miller and her husband left a New Year's party because she wasn't feeling well—a gall bladder attack, she thought.

"Everyone was surprised," she said at the hospital where the delivery was made, "especially my husband."

The Millers have been married for 13 years and have no other children. Miller, 37, is a postal worker.

New Chemist At DuPont

DAVID H. BERKEBILE

Local DuPont officials today announced the appointment of David H. Berkebile to the staff of the Research and Development Laboratory here. Berkebile, a research chemist, started work here Dec. 4, after completing work for his Ph. D. in organic chemistry at the University of Massachusetts. He attended Park College at Parkville, Mo., and received his BA degree in chemistry from Austin College at Sherman, Tex. He also did graduate work at the University of Kansas. A member of the American Chemical Society and the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science, Berkebile and his wife, Paula, reside at 2070 Chippewa Drive.

Moral: Don't Diagnose Your Own Symptoms

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Helen Miller, a housewife who was described as a little overweight, started 1969 by unexpectedly giving birth to a 6-pound girl, although she said she didn't know she was pregnant. The girl—the 36-year-old Mrs. Miller's only child—arrived at 12:47 a.m. Wednesday, shortly after Mrs. Miller and her husband left a New Year's party because she wasn't feeling well—a gall bladder attack, she thought. "Everyone was surprised," she said at the hospital where the delivery was made, "especially my husband." The Millers have been married for 13 years and have no other children. Miller, 37, is a postal worker.

$80,000 Blaze Hits Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cold weather continues to hamper firemen concerning an estimated $80,000 blaze at a warehouse here — they cannot determine its origin until ice on the building thaws.

Firemen hosed down smoldering remains Wednesday of the American Compressed Steel Corp. warehouse on Cincinnati's riverfront.

The building was destroyed as firemen battled near zero temperatures Tuesday night to save it, but firemen managed to prevent it from spreading to several nearby warehouses, including the adjoining City Haul, Inc.

Hunchback Stamp Designer Outfoxed Nazis In France

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A crippled little artist who spent 30 months in Nazi concentration camps and won France's highest military honor, is becoming famous as a designer of U.N. stamps.

"The Germans tried to put me to death because of my art, and now it is making me a name," said Claude Bottiau, a twinkling-eyed man of 48 who stands about half the height of the average adult.

One of Bottiau's early creations, a souvenir sheet marking the 10th anniversary of the United Nations, appeared in 1955. The sheet bore three stamps—3, 4, and 8-cent denominations—and had a face value of 15 cents.

Recently dealers were quoting it at $375 per sheet.

Did Bottiau retain enough souvenir sheets to bring him fortune as well as fame? "Not a one," he said with a philosophical shrug.

Misfortune has never deterred Bottiau, who fell down some stairs at the age of 4 and emerged from the hospital four years later, a hunchback.

Rejected by the French army because of his disability, Bottiau worked as a designer for an electrical company. He joined the underground when the Germans overran France in 1940, and became a saboteur in his native Brittany which was under the collaborationist Vichy regime.

The young artist started his sabotage activities modestly, rigging up fake road signs that sent German occupation columns rumbling back toward their fatherland. But soon his imagination took over.

Bottiau knew that the German troops were getting their pay through the local bank, so he doctored up some franc notes and slipped them into a teller's cage through a confederate. On the back of each note he had etched in such provocative slogans as Vive de Gaulle, then the resistance leader, and Down with the Germans. On others, he recommended that Hitler be hanged.

"The Germans would not notice such bills sandwiched between valid notes," he said, "but sooner or later, they would pass one, usually in a local bar."

When the bartender saw one of the fake notes, he usually suspected it was a Gestapo trap to test his loyalty and tossed it hastily back at the soldier. The latter, alarmed at being caught with such inflammatory material, would hasten to his commander and report it.

"At first the Germans suspected the collaborationist French in the bank and interrogated them," said Bottiau. "Then they decided that someone in the Bank of France, the point of origin, was sending through the notes."

"Finally, after an exhaustive investigation, they concluded that the franc notes were being flown over from London and parachuted into Brittany. It was hilarious."

Finally, the Germans located the printing press the underground was using and rounded up Bottiau and his comrades.

"We were thrown into a Vichy jail under sentence of death and 18 months later turned over to the Germans," said Bottiau.

For nearly three years, Bottiau was shuttled from one German concentration camp to another, including Auschwitz and Sachsenhausen.

He was finally condemned to the gas chamber, but Soviet troops freed him before sentence could be carried out. He weighed 45 pounds, as opposed to his usual weight of 110.

For his services in the underground, Bottiau was decorated with the Medaille Militaire, equivalent to the Medal of Honor in the United States.

In 1946, Bottiau joined the United Nations as a cartographer and staff artist. Since then he has not only designed U.N. stamps, and created the emblem of the U.N. Correspondents' Association, but he has set up shop as a free-lance stamp designer.

"Finally, after an exhaustive investigation, they concluded that the franc notes were being flown over from London and parachuted into Brittany. It was hilarious."

Finally, the Germans located the printing press the underground was using and rounded up Bottiau and his comrades.

"We were thrown into a Vichy jail under sentence of death and 18 months later turned over to the Germans," said Bottiau.

For nearly three years, Bottiau was shuttled from one German concentration camp to another, including Auschwitz and Sachsenhausen.

He was finally condemned to the gas chamber, but Soviet troops freed him before sentence could be carried out. He weighed 45 pounds, as opposed to his usual weight of 110.

For his services in the underground, Bottiau was decorated with the Medaille Militaire, equivalent to the Medal of Honor in the United States.

In 1946, Bottiau joined the United Nations as a cartographer and staff artist. Since then he has not only designed U.N. stamps, and created the emblem of the U.N. Correspondents' Association, but he has set up shop as a free-lance stamp designer.

Dear Abby:

'Companionship' — How Much?

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, age 77. I live in the same apartment building with a very fine gentleman, and we've become very good friends. He is married but he has a legal separation from his wife. He pays her a big alimony, but she won't give him a divorce unless he gives her a very large settlement, which he doesn't want to do as he figures he may outlive her. (She's 81 and he's 84).

I am not ever entirely at ease with this man as I am afraid his wife might sue me and I have a pretty nice savings myself. She's very clever and I have heard that she still watches him very close.

He takes me out to dinner, and I have him in for meals, and maybe we watch a little television. We both enjoy the companionship. I think you get the picture, but I'm not looking for trouble.

CAREFUL

DEAR CAREFUL: Ask your lawyer how much "companionship" the law allows a man in your neighbor's circumstances. I think I get the picture, but if you aren't careful, you could get the frame.

How Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Weather bureau summary for Ohio:

A slow moderating trend in the weather will continue through Friday, although colder weather is expected again over the weekend.

Temperatures early this morning were generally 5 to 10 degrees higher than 24 hours earlier. Low readings tonight will range from the teens to the middle 20s.

Cloudiness will increase tonight as a low pressure develops in the lower Mississippi Valley and moves toward the Tennessee Valley Friday. There is a chance of light snow in Ohio Friday as this system moves eastward.

Following this low pressure on Saturday colder weather will return with scattered snow flurries likely near Lake Erie.

FORECASTS

OHIO — Increasing cloudiness and not so cold tonight, low from mid teens to mid 20s. Friday cloudy and a little warmer with occasional light snow possibly beginning southwest portion late tonight.

NORTHWEST, NORTHEAST OHIO — Partly cloudy tonight, low in teens or low 20s. Friday cloudy with chance of light snow and a little warmer, high 25-30.

SOUTHWEST OHIO — Increasing cloudiness and not so cold tonight, becoming cloudy with chance of light snow late tonight and Friday. Low tonight in middle 20s. High Friday in lower 30s.

SOUTHEAST, CENTRAL, E. CENTRAL OHIO — Increasing cloudiness not so cold tonight, low in upper teens or low 20s. Friday cloudy with chance of light snow, high 25-30.

Father Of Four Loses Life In Pursuit Of Thief

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Raymond Sansoucie, 30, stopped his car and gave chase to a purse snatcher after witnessing an attack on a woman.

Moments later, a shot was heard. Sansoucie fell in an alley. His wife, Ruth, 24, who was in the car with three of their four children, hurried to the scene.

Witnesses said Mrs. Sansoucie arrived only to hear her husband say: "I love you." He was pronounced dead a short time later.

The thief got away with the purse of Mrs. Maude Robinson, a widow. It contained $6.

The incident occurred New Year's Eve and the Grand Jury Association of St. Louis announced Wednesday a drive to set up a trust fund for Mrs. Sansoucie and her four children, Howard, 1; Raymond, 3; Deborah, who was 5 Wednesday, and Tammy, 7. Mrs. Sansoucie is expecting a fifth child.

DEAR ABBY: As a Chaplain in Vietnam, I would like to say something to wives and girl friends who have men over here:

If you have a "DEAR JOHN" type of letter to write, please DON'T. Yesterday I saw two men who received "Dear Johns" and I can tell you it wasn't a very pretty sight.

One man had been crying hysterically for an hour before I found him at his machine gun post after a buddy had brought him a Dear John letter. He could have endangered the whole post.

Another man who was responsible for a whole detachment told me that because of a "Dear John" letter he was so hopelessly depressed he was in a fog and couldn't think straight.

You may think your man is in a safe area, but there is no "safe area" when a man receives a letter that destroys his dreams of going home. Sincerely,

BATTALION CHAPLAIN
DEAR ABBY: My husband has a friend who is a very fine person. His wife, unfortunately, is something else again. When the men are together, watching a sports event on TV, she and I will sit in another room, where she tells one fantastic story after another. I have never heard such outrageous lies.

For instance, she tells of her close friendships with influential people. (They call HER to ask her for advice.) She talks about her "collection" of priceless antiques, which she keeps stored in a warehouse. She speaks of her blueblood family background (in a distant state) and talks about her rich relatives whom nobody has met.

I just smile and say nothing but it has gotten to the point where I feel like a blooming idiot, pretending to believe all that stuff.

My husband has been a loner all his life, and this woman's husband is the first really close friend he has ever had, and I hate to disturb the relationship. The husband has heard his wife tell some of these outlandish tales, and he doesn't say a word. What should I do?

STUMPED: If the husband is a "fine" person, and he listens silently while his wife spins these yarns, he is obviously aware of her problem and is handling it as best he can. People who lie consistently in the manner you describe are "sick". You are generous to consider your husband's friendship with the husband. Continue to "smile" and keep mum. You'd gain nothing by letting this pathetic woman know you're wise.

CONFIDENTIAL TO C.L.: I did not state that "sex change" operations were illegal in the United States. I said SILICONE INJECTIONS for breast enlargement were. And at this writing, they ARE!

He takes me out to dinner, and I have him in for meals, and maybe we watch a little television. We both enjoy the companionship. I think you get the picture, but I'm not looking for trouble.

CAREFUL
DEAR CAREFUL: Ask your lawyer how much "companionship" the law allows a man in your neighbor's circumstances. I think I get the picture, but if you aren't careful, you could get the frame.

How Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Weather bureau summary for Ohio:

A slow moderating trend in the weather will continue through Friday, although colder weather is expected again over the weekend.

Temperatures early this morning were generally 5 to 10 degrees higher than 24 hours earlier. Low readings tonight will range from the teens to the middle 20s.

Cloudiness will increase tonight as a low pressure develops in the lower Mississippi Valley and moves toward the Tennessee Valley Friday. There is a chance of light snow in Ohio Friday as this system moves eastward.

Following this low pressure on Saturday colder weather will return with scattered snow flurries likely near Lake Erie.

FORECASTS

OHIO — Increasing cloudiness and not so cold tonight, low from mid teens to mid 20s. Friday cloudy and a little warmer with occasional light snow possibly beginning southwest portion late tonight.

NORTHWEST, NORTHEAST OHIO — Partly cloudy tonight, low in teens or low 20s. Friday cloudy with chance of light snow and a little warmer, high 25-30.

SOUTHWEST OHIO — Increasing cloudiness and not so cold tonight, becoming cloudy with chance of light snow late tonight and Friday. Low tonight in middle 20s. High Friday in lower 30s.

SOUTHEAST, CENTRAL, E. CENTRAL OHIO — Increasing cloudiness not so cold tonight, low in upper teens or low 20s. Friday cloudy with chance of light snow, high 30-35.

Father Of Four Loses Life In Pursuit Of Thief

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Raymond Sansoucie, 30, stopped his car and gave chase to a purse snatcher after witnessing an attack on a woman.

Moments later, a shot was heard. Sansoucie fell in an alley. His wife, Ruth, 24, who was in the car with three of their four children, hurried to the scene.

Witnesses said Mrs. Sansoucie arrived only to hear her husband say: "I love you." He was pronounced dead a short time later.

The thief got away with the purse of Mrs. Maude Robinson, a widow. It contained $6.

The incident occurred New Year's Eve and the Grand Jury Association of St. Louis announced Wednesday a drive to set up a trust fund for Mrs. Sansoucie and her four children, Howard, 1; Raymond, 3; Deborah, who was 5 Wednesday, and Tammy, 7. Mrs. Sansoucie is expecting a fifth child.

DEAR ABBY: As a Chaplain in Vietnam, I would like to say something to wives and girl friends who have men over here:

If you have a "DEAR JOHN" type of letter to write, please DON'T. Yesterday I saw two men who received "Dear Johns" and I can tell you it wasn't a very pretty sight.

One man had been crying hysterically for an hour before I found him at his machine gun post after a buddy had brought him a Dear John letter. He could have endangered the whole post.

Another man who was responsible for a whole detachment told me that because of a "Dear John" letter he was so hopelessly depressed he was in a fog and couldn't think straight.

You may think your man is in a safe area, but there is no "safe area" when a man receives a letter that destroys his dreams of going home. Sincerely,

BATTALION CHAPLAIN

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a friend who is a very fine person. His wife, unfortunately, is something else again. When the men are together, watching a sports event on TV, she and I will sit in another room, where she tells one fantastic story after another. I have never heard such outrageous lies.

For instance, she tells of her close friendships with influential people. (They call HER to ask her for advice.) She talks about her "collection" of priceless antiques, which she keeps stored in a warehouse. She speaks of her blueblood family background (in a distant state) and talks about her rich relatives whom nobody has met.

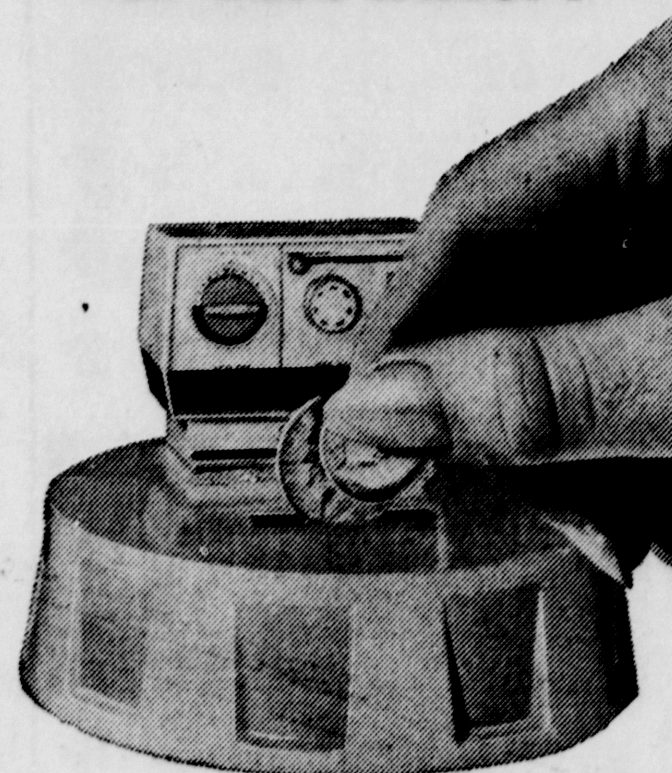

I just smile and say nothing but it has gotten to the point where I feel like a blooming idiot, pretending to believe all that stuff.

My husband has been a loner all his life, and this woman's husband is the first really close friend he has ever had, and I hate to disturb the relationship. The husband has heard his wife tell some of these outlandish tales, and he doesn't say a word. What should I do?

STUMPED
DEAR STUMPED: If the husband is a "fine" person, and he listens silently while his wife spins these yarns, he is obviously aware of her problem and is handling it as best he can. People who lie consistently in the manner you describe are "sick". You are generous to consider your husband's friendship with the husband. Continue to "smile" and keep mum. You'd gain nothing by letting this pathetic woman know you're wise.

CONFIDENTIAL TO C.L.: I did not state that "sex change" operations were illegal in the United States. I said SILICONE INJECTIONS for breast enlargement were. And at this writing, they ARE!

Coming in from New York City to be home with the family for Christmas was Gail Dunlap. Joining her to spend the day at their parents home (Jack and Ellen Dunlap) were: Cliff and Shirley Bowser, Lee and Ann and John and Elizabeth (Liz) Dunlap and their two sons.

Now, when it comes to holiday time being family time no one believes this more firmly than my good neighbors Harry and Emma Steinhauer. Puffinbarger.

On Christmas eve they were with John and Minnie Steinhauer and two daughters Johnda and Jill (home from Col.) Christmas morning they enjoyed the annual breakfast with Gene and Glenna Steinhauer and their family — Don and Carol Steinhauer and kiddles, Sue and Dick Banks (recent weds) Steve Steinhauer and his friend, Joy Welch. Later that day they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fulton (Margaret Steinhauer). Other guests were Mrs. Ann Fulton of Col., Mr. and Mrs. Larry Steinhauer of Waldo, Marion and Gretchen Steinhauer and sons Bob and Dana who were in Ohio from Winter Haven, Fla.

The Fultons live in Upper Arlington. Thursday, Harry and Emma were with his daughter June and Herman Diltz, Circleville and their sons, Sgt. Tom, home on leave from Germany and scheduled to go to Vietnam and Bob who just became the proud papa of a baby daughter. The pretty new mama is the former Linda Minor.

Friday found my neighbors at Waldo with the Larry Steinhauer's, Mr. and Mrs. Carol Heimlich and daughters of Marion; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Staynor and son of Caledonia and the Marion Steinhauers and sons of Winter Haven, Fla.

Next comes Saturday and this time Harry and Emma entertain with supper and guests are Gene and Glenna Steinhauer, John, Minnie and Johnda Steinhauer, Noah and Mabel List and Spec-4 Gary Beougher home from Germany until Jan. 22. He is the son of Margaret Fulton (and by the way was also home for Christmas). Sunday night the guest list was Lawrence and Martha Krimmel, Noah and Mabel List, Paul and Florence List, John, Minnie, Johnda Steinhauer. Monday evening dinner guests were to be Harry (Boogie) and Thelma Puffinbarger.

PICCA Trustee
We were called today and informed of our appointment as a trustee and member of the executive board of the Pickaway County Community Action Council. Yours truly fills the vacancy made when Mrs. Thurman (Geneva) Duncan resigned due to the press of other duties.

The board meets the first Monday of each month and right now the hope is that all virus bugs will have departed our household by next Monday. Our Becki is ready to "throw in the towel." She spent Thanksgiving vacation and two weeks after being very ill — was back in school one week — started Christmas vacation and wham-o-came down sick again on Sunday and is still trying to shake the bug over a week later. She keeps hoping for at least one well day before school resumes Jan. 6.

At this writing I am ready to hang a sign outside declaring this the Easterday Infirmary because not only is it Becki but since Thursday papa Bill (or should I say Bear) has been waylaid by the "bug" and like most men he does not take kindly to being incapacitated. Our Amy joined the club Friday and my membership went into effect on Thursday, also. Son Marc is the only one to escape thus far. We have been asked if it is Hong Kong flu — I really don't know other than we have all been about as miserable feeling as possible.

Trips to our good doctor (Ray Carroll) for medication help ease the aches and pains and the racking cough. For a family to be so healthy the other 11 months we have certainly been otherwise this past month. Color me blue!

This week in checking on a few vital statistics I discovered another long term wedding anniversary so will combine all of it in one article. Arthur Frazier was born Dec. 31, 1882 and his wife Kathryn Wallace Frazier, March 27, 1885. Two very kindly people any community would be proud to call their own and here in our village we are the lucky ones. These two were married Jan. 1, 1908! Figure that out — it comes to 63 years this New Year's Day. Isn't that a marvelous accomplishment? They have nine children, 19 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren and they come home frequently to visit. One daughter, Mrs. William Merriman, her husband and four youngsters of Marion, were here Christmas Day.

In June 1963 our area was stunned when it was learned Mr. Frazier had to be hospitalized at the Ohio State University T.B. center. He was there for 10 months and it was indeed a happy day when he was pronounced well and released to his home. Every day, rain or shine, he walks uptown two and three times. We tell him two times is for the mail and the third is to check up on everyone. He is a good friend to all the youngsters and enjoys teasing them. They love it.

Both enjoy good health and Mrs. Frazier is active with church work at the Church of Christ in Christian Union.

Mr. Frazier for many years worked farms and was a ditch worker until he retired. Mrs. Frazier was born in Columbus but from early childhood lived near Kinderhook. After all these years it can be said she, as well as Mr. Frazier are natives of the area.

Happy Birthday, Mr. F. and Happy Anniversary to you both and may the years ahead be nothing but good, better, best.

Our grateful thanks to all you wonderful people who enjoy reading our efforts and have been so kind to say so — it is pleasant to know. We hope we can continue to please you and will surely try.

Steering Wheel Proves Danger

CINCINNATI (AP) — Jerry Kennedy of Cincinnati became quite attached—literally—to a new steering wheel on her boyfriend's car Wednesday night.

As the 18-year-old girl drove the auto into a restaurant parking lot, she got a finger lodged in a porthole of the steering wheel brace and tried unsuccessfully for half an hour to free it.

A waitress called the life squad which took 15 minutes to ease her finger out of the porthole by using a bar of soap.

Mr. Frazier for many years worked farms and was a ditch worker until he retired.

Mrs. Frazier was born in Columbus but from early childhood lived near Kinderhook. After all these years it can be said she, as well as, Mr. Frazier are natives of the area.

Happy Birthday, Mr. F. and Happy Anniversary to you both and may the years ahead be nothing but good, better, best.

Our grateful thanks to all you wonderful people who enjoy reading our efforts and have been so kind to say so — it is pleasant to know. We hope we can continue to please you and will surely try.

Steering Wheel Proves Danger

CINCINNATI (AP) — Jerry Kennedy of Cincinnati became quite attached—literally—to a new steering wheel on her boyfriend's car Wednesday night.

As the 18-year-old girl drove the auto into a restaurant parking lot, she got a finger lodged in a porthole of the steering wheel brace and tried unsuccessfully for half an hour to free it.

A waitress called the life squad which took 15 minutes to ease her finger out of the porthole by using a bar of soap.

Five Points News

By Mrs. Francis Furniss

There were 41 present at the Five Points United Methodist Sunday School Sunday morning. Worship service followed and Miss Joyce Ann Davis and Miss Linda Stubbs were recognized as students of Ohio State University home for the holidays. They each gave a very interesting talk on their college activities.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Sheets extended the hospitality of their home to the members of the Five Points United Methodist Social Hour Club Friday evening for their December meeting. A lovely covered dish supper was enjoyed preceding the meeting. Miss Laura Long vice president opened the meeting with scripture. The roll call was answered by ten members telling their New Year's Resolution. Mrs. Francis Furniss, secretary, read the report of the last meeting and Mrs. Clark Dennis, treasurer gave the financial report. Mrs. Helen Phillips played her birthday dues. Election of officers was held with the following results: president, Laura Long; vice president, Mrs. Elbee Jones; secretary, Mrs. Francis Furniss; treasurer, Mrs. Clark Dennis; and Mrs. Jones was named chairman of the cheer committee. Mrs. Furniss gave a reading, "Christmas Fills the Air" and Mrs. Sheets read "The Power of God." The meeting closed with all praying the Lord's Prayer. Mr. and Mrs. Ned Long will be hosts for the January meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene R. Donohoe and sons Roger and Robin of near Washington C. H. were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Jolly and Mrs. Elmer Seymour and daughter of Columbus were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clark McCafferty.

Mr. and Mrs. William Finch children Melinda, Marijane, Roger and Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Finch children Kimberley Sue, Dennis and Amy and Mr. and Mrs. Robert See children Chris Ann and Todd were Christmas Day dinner guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Finch.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dick and sons Artie, Mack, J. B. and Eric, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Michel, and Vonna Rasor of Commercial Point were guests of Mrs. Irene Sunker and son Ronald Saturday evening at a six o'clock dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Neff were hosts at a family holiday dinner Sunday in their home. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Riddle and sons John and Chris, Mr. and Mrs. William Neff children Peggy, Wendy, Brian, Anita and April, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Simmons, children Grant and Becky Jane, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Spangler and little son James Drew of Grove City

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Drake of near Ashville. Additional evening guests were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Troutman of Harrisburg, Miss Ruth Troutman of Columbus and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Sturgeon and daughter and family of Des Moines, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Elba Patch and children Dee Dee, Susan and Mark of Washington C. H. were Thursday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Fuller and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Grover and daughter Amy Lou of Circleville, Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Armentrout and son Steve and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Armentrout were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Grover on Christmas Day at a turkey dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morgan and family were Saturday afternoon guests of Mr. A. A. White in Circleville.

Political Conventions Topped News In August 1968

EDITOR'S NOTE—Following is the eighth of 12 articles on The Year That Was—a review of the events that made 1968 a unique news year.

By JOY STILLEY
Associated Press Writer
A political year crammed with surprises reached its first climax in August during the conventions of the two major parties.

It was no surprise, of course, that Richard M. Nixon was nominated by the Republican Convention at Miami Beach Aug. 7 on the first ballot over Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and late entry Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

Nixon had been the front runner all along.

But when Nixon selected as his running mate Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, a man virtually unknown until he placed Nixon's name in nomination, the country was taken aback.

"Who's Agnew?" asked the man on the street. "I'm stunned," said Agnew himself.

Even while Nixon in his acceptance speech was promising a crackdown on lawlessness, lawlessness in the form of looting, fire bombing and sniping was in progress in the black sections of Miami across Biscayne Bay.

Later in the month, still more violence was evident at Chicago, scene of the Democratic National Convention and of frenzied demonstrations by young people. Thousands of youths gathered to express their disenchantment with war, with the political leadership, with the establishment in general.

The convention site resembled an armed camp more than a political rallying point. An unprecedented security system, involving electronic safeguards as well as human guards, was devised to make sure only those who belonged there got into the amphitheatre. Not only were city police out in force, but 5,500 National Guardsmen went on duty and 7,500 federal troops were flown in from Ft. Hood, Tex., to stand by.

When demonstrators attempted to march on the convention hall, police swung night sticks and dragged dozens of protesters into patrol wagons. Police themselves were targets of verbal abuse and missiles. The nation and the delegates saw on television the brief but bloody action. Immediately there were charges of police brutality and countercharges of intolerable provocations by the marchers. Mayor Richard J. Daley was severely criticized by some and praised for his actions by others.

On the convention floor, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was nominated on the first ballot for president. Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine was selected for the No. 2 spot.

Far away another political change was in the making under the influence of bullets rather than ballots. Czechoslovakia's 14 million people stood up on the issue of liberalization against the Soviet Union and her 230 million.

As the action program, under the leadership of Communist party secretary Alexander Dubcek, sought restoration of personal liberties and other freedoms for the Czechoslovaks, the Soviets bridled.

At last Russia issued an ultimatum to Dubcek: reverse the reform process, reimpose censorship, reassert party authority over all aspects of internal life, get rid of "anti-Socialist forces." Prague leaders refused.

Early on Aug. 21, troops from the Soviet Union, East Germany, Poland, Bulgaria and Hungary moved in. Czechoslovakia awoke to find 70,000 heavily armed soldiers and tanks in the street. Eventually the number of troops reached 600,000.

Although leaders broadcast appeals for calm, blood flowed in ineffective but defiant resistance. At last, "We yield to a superior power," said a Central Committee statement, "but we will never abandon our demands for severgnty and freedom."

amphitheatre. Not only were city police out in force, but 5,500 National Guardsmen went on duty and 7,500 federal troops were flown in from Ft. Hood, Tex., to stand by.

When demonstrators attempted to march on the convention hall, police swung night sticks and dragged dozens of protesters into patrol wagons. Police themselves were targets of verbal abuse and missiles. The nation and the delegates saw on television the brief but bloody action. Immediately there were charges of police brutality and countercharges of intolerable provocations by the marchers. Mayor Richard J. Daley was severely criticized by some and praised for his actions by others.

On the convention floor, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was nominated on the first ballot for president. Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine was selected for the No. 2 spot.

Far away another political change was in the making under the influence of bullets rather than ballots. Czechoslovakia's 14 million people stood up on the issue of liberalization against the Soviet Union and her 230 million.

As the action program, under the leadership of Communist party secretary Alexander Dubcek, sought restoration of personal liberties and other freedoms for the Czechoslovaks, the Soviets bridled.

At last Russia issued an ultimatum to Dubcek: reverse the reform process, reimpose censorship, reassert party authority over all aspects of internal life, get rid of "anti-Socialist forces." Prague leaders refused.

Early on Aug. 21, troops from the Soviet Union, East Germany, Poland, Bulgaria and Hungary moved in. Czechoslovakia awoke to find 70,000 heavily armed soldiers and tanks in the street. Eventually the number of troops reached 600,000.

Although leaders broadcast appeals for calm, blood flowed in ineffective but defiant resistance. At last, "We yield to a superior power," said a Central Committee statement, "but we will never abandon our demands for sovereignty and freedom."

Arkansas Rips Georgia, 16-2, In Bowl Tilt

By HERSCHEL NISSESON
Associated Press Sports Writer

No. 1 was an easy burden for Ohio State to bear but No. 12 turned out to be a catastrophe for Kansas.

It was "Ohio's finest hour" Wednesday as the top-ranked Buckeyes of Ohio State virtually assured themselves of the national collegiate championship by trampling runner-up Southern California and O. J. Simpson in the Rose Bowl 16-2.

And it was Penn State's finest minute as a last-gasp touchdown and second-chance, penalty-aided two-point conversion after Kansas was detected with 12 men on the field gave the third-ranked Nittany Lions a thrilling 15-14 triumph in the Orange Bowl.

It was a New Year's Day guaranteed to give the most avid college football fan a television hangover. The armchair quarterbacks were able to sit by the fireside and watch one bowl game after another for nine solid hours.

Texas Wotton Tennessee 36-15 in the Cotton Bowl and Arkansas trimmed previously unbeaten Georgia 16-2 in the Sugar Bowl, convincing victories for the Southwest Conference over their Southeastern rivals that set at least one SEC coach to wondering whether "maybe we better take a hard look at ourselves in the conference."

Georgia's great defense, which had yielded a national low of 98 points in 10 regular season games, met its match in Arkansas before 82,113 in the Sugar Bowl. The Razorbacks scored on a 27-yard pass from Bill Montgomery to Chuck Dicus and Bob White booted field goals of 34, 24, and 31 yards.

Dicus, a swift sophomore grabbed 12 passes for 169 yards and Montgomery, another rookie, equaled the Sugar Bowl mark of nine straight completions.

It was a disastrous New Year's period for the SEC. Alabama was routed by Missouri in the Gator Bowl and only Auburn and Mississippi managed victories in the Sun and Liberty Bowls, respectively. Georgia Coach Vince Dooley pointed out a possible factor—the SEC gives only 40 football scholarships a year to 50 for Southwest teams.

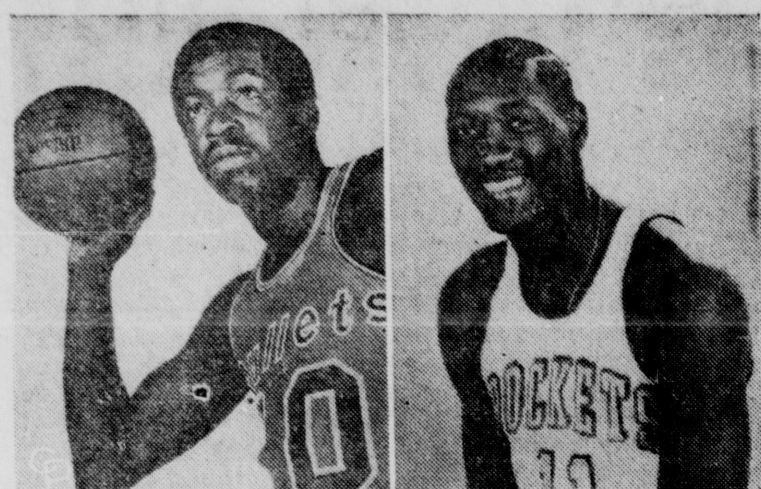

In the Bluebonnet Bowl New Year's Eve, Southern Methodist scored three touchdowns in a wild fourth period and nipped Oklahoma 28-27.

Dayton, Fort Wayne Tie, 3-3, In IHL Tilt

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Defenseman Moe Benoit scored on a 114-foot shot to give Dayton a 3-3 tie with Fort Wayne in an International Hockey League game Wednesday night.

Fort Wayne held a lead of 3-0 but the Gems fought back to 3-2 as the second period ended.

The win left Dayton two points behind league leading Toledo.

Circleville Swim Team Slates Organization Meet Sunday

A special meeting will be held 3 p.m. Sunday for all boys and girls, age 8 thru 17 who desire to swim on the 1969 Circleville Swim Team.

The meeting, at which swimmers and their parents must attend, in the Circleville Municipal Court Room, on the second floor of the City Building.

The object of the meeting, according to Swim Coach Jim Shea, is to set up transportation pools for winter practices at Chillicothe YMCA which will start Jan. 18 and be held every Saturday thereafter until the first of June.

This year Shea said we will hold two hours of practice each Saturday instead of one. All new swimmers, and all experienced swimmers age 11 and under will practice one hour, and all swimmers over 12 will practice the second hour. Last year, the Circleville Swim Team had their first winning season, with a 5 and 1 record.

"We should," the Coach said, "have another good year in 1969. We figure to lose only three top notch swimmers. Debbie Shea, who has been the teams top girl swimmer for the past four years, Carol Underdonk, who at the age of nine last year won the trophy as the most dedicated girl swimmer, and Mark Ralston, who

Prime Minister Up For Grabs!

OTTAWA (AP) — The most eligible bachelor in Canada—dapper Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau—says the new year may offer him time to take initiatives toward marriage.

In an interview Wednesday, the 49-year-old Trudeau said he was sorry he was too pushed last year to "make the kind of deal I would have liked. But never mind, this year I'll be taking initiatives."

Salty Parker, Mel McGaha, Buddy Hancken and Jim Owens will coach the Houston Astros next season under Manager Harry Walker.

CHS Matmen Host 3-Team Meet Friday

The Circleville wrestling team hosts Bishop Ready and Portsmouth beginning 6:30 p.m. Friday in a triangular meet.

Circleville has won a triangular match at Cental, and lost to Grove City in a dual meet here.

Tiger wrestling coach Brent Bell knows little about the visitors for Friday's match.

The Tigers have two undefeated matmen. They are Mike Smith at 120 pounds and heavyweight Jack Boyer.

MIKE Fuller will be the 103-pound competitor for Circleville Friday. Randy Martin has won the berth in the 112-pound division.

Other starters will be Doyle Kiser, 127 pounds; Jack Robinson, 133 pounds; Dezi Gentzel, 138 pounds; Craig Dresbach, 145 pounds; either Doug Moore or Jeff Wise at 154 pounds; Steve Lingo, 165 pounds; Bill Seum or Mark Ralston at 175 pounds.

Santa Clara Tops Oklahoma City, 92-82, On West Coast

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer

While most everyone else was playing football, Santa Clara used New Year's Day to get a head start in 1969 on the rest of the nation's Top Ten basketball teams.

The unbeaten Broncos celebrated their new No. 6 ranking by dropping Oklahoma City 92-82 on the West Coast on a light night in college basketball.

The only other major teams in action were Utah and Connecticut and Utah carried off a 105-85 victory over the visiting Huskies.

Santa Clara, fresh from a victory over Columbia in the Rainbow Classic title game Monday night in Hawaii, made Oklahoma City its 11th victim and boosted its chances to move even higher in the rankings.

Hull And Howe Tie In Scoring In NHL Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In the showdown at the top of the National Hockey League's scoring race, Bobby Hull, broken jaw and all, drew even with Gordie Howe.

Hull scored his 24th goal of the season Wednesday night and Howe, who had taken over the scoring lead the night before, was shut out and Hull's goal enabled him to tie the Detroit star for the scoring lead. Each has 50 points.

In other games Wednesday, Toronto battered Oakland 7-3 and Los Angeles battled St. Louis' West Division leaders to a 0-0 draw.

On New Year's Eve, Detroit dropped Minnesota 6-3 and Montreal slipped by Pittsburgh 4-3.

crown, Houston won third place from Western Kentucky 87-66. Dayton stopped St. Louis U. 67-56. Loyola of Chicago whipped Wichita State 101-89 and Memphis State tripped Brown 70-52.

Among the rest of the Top Ten, only 10th-ranked Cincinnati starts the New Year before Saturday, playing at Tulsa tonight and at Wichita State Saturday.

The rest play Saturday night with UCLA, No. 1, hosting Tulane; Davidson entertaining 17th-ranked St. John's; Kentucky at Mississippi; North Carolina, No. 4, home to Duke; Kansas, No. 5, at Nebraska; Detroit, No. 7, at Marquette; Minnesota at Illinois, No. 8, and Villanova, No. 9, at St. Bonaventure, No. 20.

Battling OSU Team Smashes Southern Cal Bid, 27-16

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—State football Coach Woody Hayes heads for Vietnam on Friday with the National Collegiate football championship team entrenched in his capable hands.

It will be the fourth goodwill jaunt for the veteran Buckeye mentor who scored his third Rose Bowl victory New Year's Day—an impressive 27-16 decision over Southern California.

The outcome left little doubt that the No. 1-ranked Buckeyes were as good as their press clippings. But Hayes heralded the victory as his most precious in a Rose Bowl clash.

"This is my greatest bowl victory," the jubilant Hayes said afterwards. "After all, both teams were unbeaten."

The dean of Big Ten coaches wasn't ready to call his sophomore-laden club his best ever in an illustrious 18-year career.

"I still consider my 1954 team my greatest," he said. "We had four great backs that year."

Aspiring Southern California, the nation's second-ranked team, stunned the Bucks by opening a 10-0 lead in the second quarter.

Brilliant O. J. Simpson led the first Trojan thrust by gathering in three passes from Steve Sogge for 53 yards. A stout Buckeye defense stiffened on the three and Ron Ayala booted a 21-yard field goal.

Minutes later, Simpson, two-time All-American and Heisman Trophy winner, electrified the 102,063 fans by breaking off left tackle and cutting back to the right on a spectacular 80-yard touchdown gallop.

The faithful Buckeye followers didn't have long to wait for an Ohio comeback.

Quarterback Rex Kern, a superb field general, directed the Bucks on a 13-play, 69-yard march with fullback Jim Ois cracking the final yard for the score.

"After we fell behind 10-0, I told the guys in the huddle that we better get rolling and quit messing around," Kern said.

With only 72 seconds remaining in the half, Kern completed three passes for 38 yards and set up the first of two field goals by Jim Roman.

The 26-yard three-pointer with three seconds left evened the count at intermission.

"Getting that field goal was a big psychological advantage for us," Hayes said. "I felt we would win even after we got behind. I knew we would move the ball better."

The veteran coach singled out

his defensive unit as the big factor in the victory.

"Our defense in the second half was fabulous. It was about as good as our best effort earlier when we beat Purdue 13-0," Simpson, who ripped through the Bucks for 137 yards in 18 first half trips, was limited to only 34 in 10 carries in the second period.

"O. J. broke the big one in the first half but we did a good job stopping him later. He is a tremendous player," Hayes said.

The alert Ohio defense, which has been the key many times in a perfect 10-0 season, recovered two fumbles that led to tough downs and picked off two of Sogge's aeriels.

The losers scored their final touchdown in the final minute in the game's only controversial play.

Sogge hit end Sam Dickerson in the end zone on a 19-yard pitch. Both Dickerson and Polaski battled for the ball, and looked like a possible interception.

"I still don't know what happened on that one. That's the first time I ever saw a touchdown called with the ball on the ground," Hayes said.

out thinking the game was over and Kansas had won. Even the Nittany Lions' tying touchdown was something out of fiction. It came on a busted play.

Penn State trailed 14-7 with 1:28 remaining. Kansas, with a fourth down and 23 at its 25-yard line, was forced to punt. Penn State put on a 10-man rush and defensive halfback Neal Smith partially blocked the ball which was covered at the Kansas 49.

On first down, Penn State ran what Coach Joe Paterno called a "go pattern" with quarterback Chuck Burkhardt passing to the head of Kansas defender Tommy Anderson and fell at the Jayhawks' three-yard line.

Two smashes by fullback Tom Cherry netted absolutely nothing against the stubborn Kansas defense. Then, Burkhardt, the unsung quarterback of the third-ranked Nittany Lions, rolled to his right and raced three yards for a touchdown.

Actually, Burkhardt was supposed to hand off the ball to halfback Charley Pittman, but a Kansas defender got between them and Burkhardt had no choice but to run for his life into the corner. He scored standing up, setting up the most dramatic finish in the 35-year history of the Orange Bowl.

Kansas built its 14-7 lead with a first period touchdown scored by Mike Reeves at the end of a nine-play, 45-yard drive. Penn State tied it in the second quarter on a 47-yard drive climaxed by Charlie Pittman's 13-yard run into the end zone. In the fourth period, Donnie Shanklin returned a punt 46-yards to the State 8. Riggins gained seven and then dove the final yard.

Street, Longhorns Rip Vols 36-13 In Cotton Bowl Clash

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Texas used the lance and the sledgehammer with equal deadliness in executing bewildered Tennessee 36-13 Wednesday in the 33rd annual Cotton Bowl classic.

The "lance" was an especially concocted aerial from quarterback James Street to swift and elusive Charles "Cotton" Speyrer. The first strike went for a 78-yard touchdown. The second bomb—also Street to Speyrer—and run covered 79 yards for a score.

The "sledgehammer" was the brutal, ground-trembling runs of Texas' flying foursome.

Street, All-America Chris Gilbert, Ted Koy and Steve Worster galloped for 250 yards and three touchdowns through the physically whipped Volunteer line.

Tennessee was rather awed by the devastation.

"I have never seen a backfield as big as theirs," said Vol. All-American guard Charles Rosenfielder. "Texas is one of the better, if not the best team I have played against in my three varsity seasons."

Tennessee Cart Dick Williams said, "Their execution killed us. You couldn't tell what was happening. He (Street) did a great job. He knew what to do."

Street, whose only claim to fame at Texas until this season was that he was a good baseball pitcher, literally picked the heralded Vol defense apart.

Without once calling a pass, Street directed Texas 80 yards in 13 plays in the first period with Worster, a sophomore, bulging across from 14 yards out.

Ten Street stung the Vols with a totally unexpected play from the Texas 22.

Operating from the Longhorns' unique "Whisper-T" or "Y" formation, Street faked beautifully drawing the Tennessee secondary in a step. He lofted a shot to sophomore Speyrer, a 168-pound gadfly split end who caught the ball, faked defensive back Jimmy Weatherford out of position and roared home.

Speyrer was the only receiver on the play. It was the first time Texas had used it off the triple option.

"I kinda thought we might hit that bomb," said Texas Coach D. "Red" Roper.

In the third quarter, Street and Speyrer teamed up on almost the exact carbon copy—only one yard longer.

Street named the game's most valuable offensive player, hit 7 of 13 passes for 200 yards. Speyrer scored five of the passes for 161 yards.

Fifth-ranked Texas rolled up a massive 513 yards in total offense—279 on the ground and 234 in the air. The other touchdowns came on Koy's nine-yard run and Gilbert's five-yard dash.

Vol Coach Doug Dickey replaced starting quarterback Bubba Wyche with soph Bobby Scott, who threw a 17-yard touchdown pass to Gary Kreis and a 3-yard scoring pass to Mike Price.

Rose Bowl Comment

By DAN BERGER
Associated Press Sports Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Southern California's football coach, John McKay, says "If we hadn't given up the ball deep, we would not have given up more than two or three touchdowns and I think we would have won."

"It detracts somewhat when you fumble," McKay said Wednesday after Ohio State's top-ranked Buckeyes had beaten the Trojans 27-16 in the Rose Bowl.

The Buckeyes' second-half defense and two key fumble recoveries told the story.

Despite the Trojans' 10-0 lead in the first half, Ohio State reeled off 27 straight points to earn clear title to the No. 1 college football ranking.

"The biggest factor of the game was our defense in the second half," said Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes.

"O.J. broke through for that big one in the first half, but we contained him well in the second half."

O. J. Simpson, USC's Heisman Trophy-winning halfback, scampered for 137 yards in the first half, including an 80-yard touchdown burst. But in the second half Simpson added only 34 yards and fumbled twice, one which led on the next play to a Buckeye touchdown.

"Our defense was fabulous," Hayes said jubilantly.

"It was about as good as our best effort earlier when we beat Purdue 13-0."

McKay said the Trojan game plan was to throw to Simpson more often than during the regular season.

"Jack Tatum is their rover," McKay said. "We felt if we could send Simpson in motion, Tatum would go to the flanker and by shifting O.J. to the slot, we could pass to him. That way he'd be isolated one on one. Looking back, maybe we should have thrown to him a lot more than we did."

Hayes admitted the strategy "surprised the linebackers. But don't forget that Tatum, Ted Provost and Mark Slier were playing with injuries."

Simpson caught eight passes for 85 yards as compared to his 10-game regular season total of 18 catches.

"I think I'll be used a lot more as a pass receiver by the professionals," Simpson said. "I like to get a defensive man one-on-one and I have experience as a pass receiver. When I was in junior college, I was primarily a flanker."

Simpson's 80-yard second-quarter scoring shot gave USC a 10-point lead. Asked what his thoughts were then, Hayes said: "I thought we would win. I thought we would move the ball better."

"He's a tremendous player and a great comebacker," said Hayes of Simpson. "He came into the dressing room to congratulate my kids."

Celtics Top Suns, 93-87, In Squeaker

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics waited an extra day to bring in the New Year with one of their typical bangs, and it left the Phoenix Suns with a headache.

The Celtics, famous for their explosions that led them to many a National Basketball Association title in recent years, erupted for 11 of the first 12 points in the fourth quarter and beat the Suns 93-87 Wednesday night.

In the only other game, San Francisco rode by Cincinnati 106-101 in Cleveland behind Nate Thurmond and Rudy LaRusso.

In the American Basketball Association's only contest, Los Angeles stopped Houston 123-94 in Los Angeles.

Phoenix, playing at home, was leading the Celtics by three points after three quarters when Boston made its big noise. John Havlicek was the loudest with three baskets in the spurt, and then Emmette Bryant hit several long jump shots to keep the sound resounding in the Suns' ears.

Havlicek and teammate Bailey Howell finished with 17 points each in the defensive struggle, while Dick Van Arsdale had 22 for the Suns.

SPORTS

The Circleville Herald, Thur. Jan. 2, 1969 17

Pickaway Sports Perspective

By STEVE JONES

The year 1968 provided both bright spots and disappointments on the local sports scene.

Westfall and Logan Elm gave county fans championship teams. Circleville's first losing season in football for many years has to be the biggest disappointment for local fans.

Logan Elm and Laurelville shared the Scioto Valley Conference basketball crown for the second year in a row, and coaches Charles Pritchard and Clyde Crewley shared the SVC cage coach of the year laurels.

Westfall's baseball team under Coach Paul Hoskins swept to its second consecutive SVC title. The Mustang hardballers posted a 16-3 record and advanced as far as the district finals before losing to Olentangy in tournament play.

Westfall started the current prep athletic season with a championship football team and a winning cross country track squad.

Coach Dave Katterhenrich led his Mustangs to the conference football title. The Mustangs lost only to West Jefferson. Katterhenrich was coach of the year in the league and John Furniss was back of the year. All-District and All-State as he shattered every rushing record in the book at Westfall.

Two years ago the Westfall football team was winless. The Westfall cross country team won seven of ten meets and sent Jim Lett and Bob Oesterle to state competition.

The year saw new head coaches step into positions at Circleville and Teays Valley.

Denny Williams took over for fellow West Virginian Paul Starr who accepted the head position at Newark.

Garold Sowers, a product of winning basketball at New Lebanon Dixie High School, was recruited to improve the basketball picture at Circleville.

Brent Bell stepped up from the junior high wrestling coaching position to the head spot, replacing Kent Carpenter, who followed Starr to Newark. Dannie Fouts is the new head baseball coach at Circleville.

At Teays Valley, Dick Kidwell took over the football coaching position from Bob Hoover. Hoover was promoted to varsity basketball coach replacing the veteran Russ Gregg who went to Whitehall.

1969 looks bright in some quarters. Basketball fans at Westfall feel the current squad might possibly be the best ever there. Logan Elm cage fans feel their Braves' 3-3 record is not indicative of the potential of the team.

And Paul Hoskins has just about every member of his winning baseball team returning. It looks like the SVC basketball and baseball titles will return to Pickaway County.

Penn State Tops Kansas, 15-14

MIAMI (AP)—A 12th man on the field gave Penn State a second chance for a winning two point conversion with 15 seconds remaining and the Nittany Lions made it for a 15-14 victory over Kansas in the Orange Bowl New Year's night.

Halfback Bob Campbell ripped into the end zone for the deciding conversion which preserved Penn State's unbeaten season and left a shell-shocked Kansas team in his wake.

An hour after the frantic finish, the 12th man, junior line-backer Rick Abernathy sat in the Kansas dressing room, his head cupped in his hands and tears streaking his face.

Third-ranked Penn State appeared beaten when a pass for the two points fell incomplete, leaving Kansas with a 14-13 lead. A red flag, however, lay on the goal line as players streamed off the field. An official had counted 12 Jayhawks in the lineup on the play.

Penn State wasn't about to stare a gift horse in the mouth. Given a second chance, this time from the one-yard line, the Nittany Lions made it good for their 11th victory in a perfect season.

The finish stunned a crowd of 77,719, which had begun to file out thinking the game was over and Kansas had won. Even the Nittany Lions' tying touchdown was something out of fiction. It came on a busted play.

Penn State trailed 14-7 with 1:28 remaining. Kansas, with a fourth down and 23 at its 25-yard line, was forced to punt. Penn State put on a 10-man rush and defensive halfback Neal Smith partially blocked the ball which was covered at the Kansas 49.

On first down, Penn State ran what Coach Joe Paterno called a "go pattern" with quarterback Chuck Burkhardt passing to the head of Kansas defender Tommy Anderson and fell at the Jayhawks' three-yard line.

Two smashes by fullback Tom Cherry netted absolutely nothing against the stubborn Kansas defense. Then, Burkhardt, the unsung quarterback of the third-ranked Nittany Lions, rolled to his right and raced three yards for a touchdown.

Actually, Burkhardt was supposed to hand off the ball to halfback Charley Pittman, but a Kansas defender got between them and Burkhardt had no choice but to run for his life into the corner. He scored standing up, setting up the most dramatic finish in the 35-year history of the Orange Bowl.

Kansas built its 14-7 lead with a first period touchdown scored by Mike Reeves at the end of a nine-play, 45-yard drive. Penn State tied it in the second quarter on a 47-yard drive climaxed by Charlie Pittman's 13-yard run into the end zone. In the fourth period, Donnie Shanklin returned a punt 46-yards to the State 8. Riggins gained seven and then dove the final yard.

Tigers Travel To Wilmington For SCO Game

Circleville travels to Wilmington Friday, seeking its second South Central Ohio League win.

And the Tigers will face a tough task against the tall Hurricane squad.

Wilmington has veteran center Kim Ewing, a 6-5 senior back to lead the squad.

Ewing is the team's leading scorer with 215 points in nine games. Weighing 200 pounds, he is also a good rebounder.

ADDITIONAL board strength on the Wilmington squad is provided by Doug Gordley, a 6-3, 215-pound forward; Karl Rosenberg, 1 6-2, 175-pound forward.

Guard Chuck Buster is averaging 10 points a game, and has efforts of 29 points and 25 points this year.

Other guards include Ken

Williams and Mike Graham.

Circleville's coach Garold Sowers cannot match Wilmington's size.

Phil Diehl at 6-1 and 190 pounds is the biggest Tiger. Diehl has started the last two games for the Tigers and has come through 19 of 17 point performances.

He has also beefed up the rebounding of the Red and Black.

RANDY Halley continues to lead the Tigers' scoring. He has pitched 121 points through the nets this season. His best game scoring-wise was Washington C. H. where he had 26 markers.

Dave Horst has been a steady performer for Circleville with 101 points in seven games.

Dave Hopkins, Charlie Jackson, Ty Ankrom and Mike Neal have all shown at one time or another that they are capable of scoring.

Wilmington will run with the ball if given the opportunity, but Coach Fred Summers favors a mistake-free game.

Wilmington has a 6-3 record this season. Over the holidays the Hurricane captured the Clinton County Holiday tournament by defeating Blanchester and East Clinton.

The only win for Circleville has been against Hillsboro.

Battling OSU Team Smashes Southern Cal Bid, 27-16

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—State football Coach Woody Hayes heads for Vietnam on Friday with the National Collegiate football championship firmly entrenched in his capable hands.

It will be the fourth goodwill jaunt for the veteran Buckeye mentor who scored his third Rose Bowl victory New Year's Day—an impressive 27-16 decision over Southern California.

The outcome left little doubt that the No. 1-ranked Buckeyes were as good as their press clippings. But Hayes heralded the victory as his most precious in a Rose Bowl clash.

"This is my greatest bowl victory," the jubilant Hayes said afterwards. "After all, both teams were unbeaten."

The dean of Big Ten coaches wasn't ready to call his sophomore-laden club his best ever in an illustrious 18-year career.

"I still consider my 1954 team my greatest," he said. "We had four great backs that year."

Aspiring Southern California, the nation's second-ranked team, stunned the Bucks by opening a 10-0 lead in the second quarter.

Brilliant O. J. Simpson led the first Trojan thrust by gathering in three passes from Steve Sogge for 53 yards. A stout Buckeye defense stiffened on the three and Ron Ayala booted a 21-yard field goal.

Minutes later, Simpson, two-time All-American and Heisman Trophy winner, electrified the 102,063 fans by breaking off left tackle and cutting back to the right on a spectacular 80-yard touchdown gallop.

The faithful Buckeye followers didn't have long to wait for an Ohio comeback.

Quarterback Rex Kern, a superb field general, directed the Bucks on a 13-play, 69-yard march with fullback Jim Ols cracking the final yard for the score.

"After we fell behind 10-0, I told the guys in the huddle that we better get rolling and quit messing around," Kern said.

With only 72 seconds remaining in the half, Kern completed three passes for 38 yards and set up the first of two field goals by Jim Roman.

The 26-yard three-pointer with three seconds left evened the count at intermission.

"Getting that field goal was a big psychological advantage for us," Hayes said. "I felt we would win even after we got behind. I knew we would move the ball better."

The veteran coach singled out

his defensive unit as the big factor in the victory.

"Our defense in the second half was fabulous. It was about as good as our best effort earlier when we beat Purdue 13-0," Simpson, who ripped through the Bucks for 137 yards in 18 first half trips, was limited to only 34 in 10 carries in the second period.

"O. J. broke the big one in the first half but we did a good job stopping him later. He is a tremendous player," Hayes said.

The alert Ohio defense, which has been the key many times in a perfect 10-0 season, recovered

two fumbles that led to tough downs and picked off two of Sogge's aeriels.

The losers scored their final touchdown in the final minute in the game's only controversial play.

Sogge hit end Sam Dickerson in the end zone on a 19-yard pitch. Both Dickerson and Po-laski battled for the ball, and looked like a possible interception.

"I still don't know what happened on that one. That's the first time I ever saw a touchdown called with the ball on the ground," Hayes said.

Penn State Tops Kansas, 15-14

MIAMI (AP) — A 12th man on the field gave Penn State a second chance for a winning two point conversion with 15 seconds remaining and the Nittany Lions made it for a 15-14 victory over Kansas in the Orange Bowl New Year's night.

Street, Longhorns Rip Vols 36-13 In Cotton Bowl Clash

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Texas used the lance and the sledgehammer with equal deadliness in executing bewildered Tennessee 36-13 Wednesday in the 33rd annual Cotton Bowl classic.

The "lance" was an especially concocted aerial from quarterback James Street to swift and elusive Charles "Cotton" Speyrer. The first strike went for a 78-yard touchdown. The second bomb—also Street to Speyrer—and run covered 79 yards for a score.

The "sledgehammer" was the brutal, ground-trembling runs of Texas' flying foursome.

Street, All-America Chris Gilbert, Ted Koy and Steve Worster galloped for 250 yards and three touchdowns through the physically whipped Volunteer line.

Tennessee was rather awed by the devastation.

"I have never seen a backfield as big as theirs," said Vol All-American guard Charles Rosenfielder. "Texas is one of the better, if not the best team I have played against in my three varsity seasons."

Tennessee Cart Dick Williams said, "Their execution killed us. You couldn't tell what was happening. He (Street) did a great job. He knew what to do."

Street, whose only claim to fame at Texas until this season was that he was a good baseball pitcher, literally picked the heralded Vol defense apart.

Without once calling a pass, Street directed Texas 80 yards in 13 plays in the first period with Worster, a sophomore, bulging across from 14 yards out.

Ten Street stung the Vols with a totally unexpected play from the Texas 22.

Operating from the Longhorns' unique "Wishbone-T" or "Y" formation, Street faked beautifully drawing the Tennessee secondary in a stop. He lofted a shot to sophomore Speyrer, a 168-pound gadfly split end who caught the ball, faked defensive back Jimmy Weatherford out of position and roared home.

Speyrer was the only receiver on the play. It was the first time Texas had used it off the line of scrimmage.

"I kinda thought we might hit that bomb," said Texas Coach D. "Dell" Royal.

In the third quarter, Street and Speyrer teamed up on almost the exact carbon copy—only one yard longer.

Street named the game's most valuable offensive player, hit 7 of 13 passes for 200 yards. Speyrer scored five of the passes for 161 yards.

Fifth-ranked Texas rolled up a massive 513 yards in total offense—279 on the ground and 234 in the air. The other touchdowns came on Koy's nine-yard run and Gilbert's five-yard dash.

Vol Coach Doug Dickey replaced starting quarterback Bubba Wyche with soph Bobby Scott, who threw a 17-yard touchdown pass to Gary Kreis and a 3-yard scoring pass to Mike Price.

Rose Bowl Comment

By DAN BERGER
Associated Press Sports Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Southern California's football coach, John McKay, says "If we hadn't given up the ball deep, we would not have given up more than two or three touchdowns and I think we would have won."

"It detracts somewhat when you fumble," McKay said Wednesday after Ohio State's top-ranked Buckeyes had beaten his Trojans 27-16 in the Rose Bowl.

The Buckeyes' second-half defense and two key fumble recoveries told the story.

Despite the Trojans' 10-0 lead in the first half, Ohio State reeled off 27 straight points to earn clear title to the No. 1 college football ranking.

"The biggest factor of the game was our defense in the second half," said Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes.

"O.J. broke through for that big one in the first half, but we contained him well in the second half."

O. J. Simpson, USC's Heisman Trophy-winning halfback, scampered for 137 yards in the first half, including an 80-yard touchdown burst. But in the second half Simpson added only 34 yards and fumbled twice, one which led on the next play to a Buckeye touchdown.

"Our defense was fabulous," Hayes said jubilantly.

"It was about as good as our best effort earlier when we beat Purdue 13-0."

McKay said the Trojan game plan was to throw to Simpson more often than during the regular season.

"Jack Tatum is their rover," McKay said. "We felt if we could send Simpson in motion, Tatum would go to the flanker and by shifting O.J. to the slot, we could pass to him. That way he'd be isolated one on one. Looking back, maybe we should have thrown to him a lot more than we did."

Hayes admitted the strategy "survived the linebacksers. But don't forget that Tatum, Ted Provost and Mark Stier were playing with injuries."

Simpson caught eight passes for 85 yards as compared to his 10-game regular season total of 18 catches.

"I think I'll be used a lot more as a pass receiver by the professionals," Simpson said.

"I like to get a defensive man one-on-one and I have experience as a pass receiver. When I was in junior college, I was primarily a flanker."

Simpson's 80-yard second-quarter scoring shot gave USC a 10-point lead. Asked what his thoughts were then, Hayes said: "I thought we would win. I thought we would move the ball better."

"He's a tremendous player and a great endorser," said Hayes of Simpson. "He came into the dressing room to congratulate my kids."

Tigers Travel To Wilmington For SCO Game

Circleville travels to Wilmington Friday, seeking its second South Central Ohio League win.

And the Tigers will face a tough task against the tall Hurricane squad.

Wilmington has veteran center Kim Ewing, a 6-5 senior back to lead the squad.

Ewing is the team's leading scorer with 215 points in nine games. Weighing 200 pounds, he is also a good rebounder.

ADDITIONAL board strength on the Wilmington squad is provided by Doug Gordley, a 6-3, 215-pound forward; Karl Rosenberg, 1 6-2, 175-pound forward.

Guard Chuck Buster is averaging 10 points a game, and has efforts of 29 points and 25 points this year.

Other guards include Ken Williams and Mike Graham.

Circleville's coach Garold Sowers cannot match Wilmington's size.

Phil Diehl at 6-1 and 190 pounds is the biggest Tiger. Diehl has started the last two games for the Tigers and has come through 19 of 17 point performances.

He has also beefed up the rebounding of the Red and Black.

RANDY Halley continues to lead the Tigers' scoring. He has pitched 121 points through the nets this season. His best game scoring-wise was Washington C. H. where he had 26 markers.

Dave Horst has been a steady performer for Circleville with 101 points in seven games.

Dave Hopkins, Charlie Jackson, Ty Ankrom and Mike Neal have all shown at one time or another that they are capable of scoring.

Wilmington will run with the ball if given the opportunity, but Coach Fred Summers favors a mistake-free game.

Wilmington has a 6-3 record this season. Over the holidays the Hurricane captured the Clinton County Holiday tournament by defeating Blanchester and East Clinton.

The only win for Circleville has been against Hillsboro.

The Circleville Herald, Thur. Jan. 2, 1969 17

Pickaway Sports Perspective

By STEVE JONES

The year 1968 provided both bright spots and disappointments on the local sports scene.

Westfall and Logan Elm gave county fans championship teams. Circleville's first losing season in football for many years has to be the biggest disappointment for local fans.

Logan Elm and Laurelville shared the Scioto Valley Conference basketball crown for the second year in a row, and coaches Charles Pritchard and Clyde Crewey shared the SVC cage coach of the year laurels.

Westfall's baseball team under Coach Paul Hoskins swept to its second consecutive SVC title. The Mustang hardballers posted a 16-3 record and advanced as far as the district finals before losing to Olentangy in tournament play.

Westfall started the current prep athletic season with a championship football team and a winning cross country track squad.

Coach Dave Katterhenrich led his Mustangs to the conference football title. The Mustangs lost only to West Jefferson. Katterhenrich was coach of the year in the league and John Furniss was back of the year, All-District and All-State as he shattered every rushing record in the book at Westfall.

Two years ago the Westfall football team was winless. The Westfall cross country team won seven of ten meets and sent Jim Lett and Bob Oesterle to state competition.

The year saw new head coaches step into positions at Circleville and Teays Valley.

Denny Williams took over for fellow West Virginian Paul Starr who accepted the head position at Newark.

Garold Sowers, a product of winning basketball at New Lebanon Dixie High School, was recruited to improve the basketball picture at Circleville.

Brent Bell stepped up from the junior high wrestling coaching position to the head spot, replacing Kent Carpenter, who followed Starr to Newark. Dannie Fouts is the new head baseball coach at Circleville.

At Teays Valley, Dick Kidwell took over the football coaching position from Bob Hoover. Hoover was promoted to varsity basketball coach replacing the veteran Russ Gregg who went to Whitehall.

1969 looks bright in some quarters. Basketball fans at Westfall feel the current squad might possibly be the best ever there. Logan Elm cage fans feel their Braves' 3-3 record is not indicative of the potential of the team.

And Paul Hoskins has just about every member of his winning baseball team returning. It looks like the SVC basketball and baseball titles will return to Pickaway County.

Apollo 8 Moon Pictures Excellent

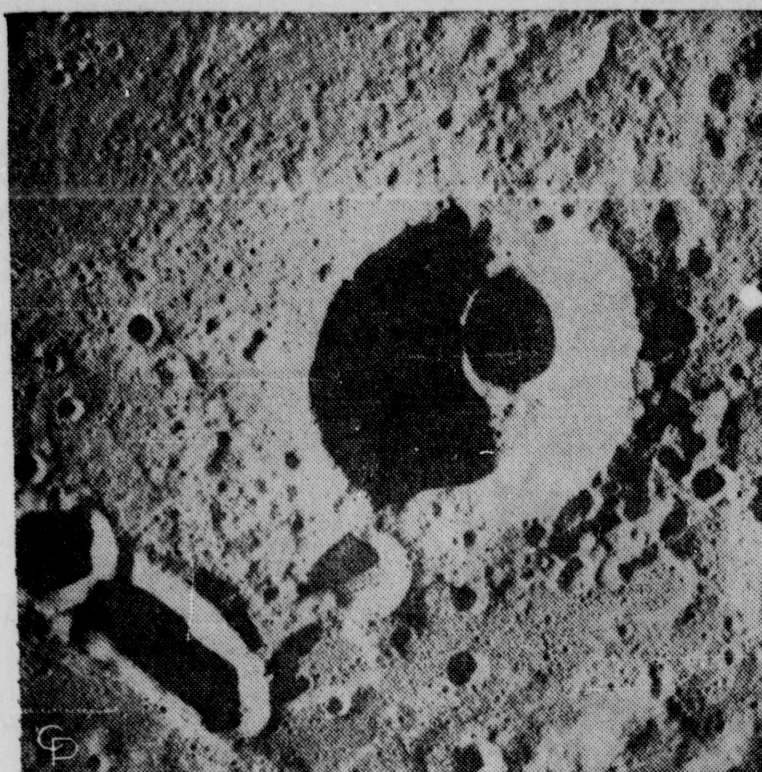

APOLLO CLOSEUP OF THE MOON—Taken from the orbiting spacecraft Apollo 8, this photo is looking south at the large (40 miles in diameter) crater Goclenius on the surface of the Moon. An unusual feature of this crater is the prominent rim that crosses the crater rim. The three clustered craters are Magelhaens, Magelhaens A. and Colombo A.

Side Never Seen By Man

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE MOON—The photo of a brightly rayed crater on the far side of the Moon (never seen from Earth) was taken by the Apollo 8 astronauts near the sub-solar point of the Moon, when the sun was directly overhead. NASA photo.

50X50-MILE PIECE OF THE MOON'S SURFACE—One of the photos brought back by the Apollo 8 astronauts covers an area of the Moon surface approximately 50 miles by 50 miles within a 250-mile diameter crater on the far side of the Moon. The large crater in the center is about 20 miles in diameter. NASA photo.

Tax Reform Issues To Get Study When Congress Meets

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tax-free status of charitable institutions and the exemption from capital gains taxes enjoyed by heirs are due for careful scrutiny in the new Congress, informed sources say.

These two areas are designated for special study as part of a look at tax reforms that sources say Congress will undertake regardless of what Richard M. Nixon does with recommendations of the Johnson administration.

The controversial 27.5 per cent oil depletion allowance, however, is not scheduled for review, sources said Wednesday night.

President Johnson said Tuesday in San Antonio, Tex., he is making available to Congress and the incoming administration a package of tax reform proposals developed by the Treasury Department.

Johnson added, however, he had not examined the proposals and is making no recommendation concerning them.

The initiative, accordingly, is left to the Republican administration that will take over Jan. 20.

Johnson was instructed by Congress to provide recommendations on tax reform by Dec. 31. His referral of the Treasury proposals came a few hours before the deadline.

Sources close to Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee where all tax legislation originates, said Mills avoided receiving any advance information on the Treasury proposals, apparently preferring they go first to the Nixon administration.

Mills, however, was said to favor making a start on tax reform this year, although the time required to steer a comprehensive revision of the Internal Revenue Code through both houses of Congress almost certainly rules out any final action earlier than 1970.

The question of whether the 10 per cent income surtax will be extended beyond June 30 is not involved in tax reform proposals, which are concerned with long-range revisions in the tax structure.

Seven Lose Lives In Montreal Blaze

MONTREAL (AP) — A 36-year-old woman, five of her eight children and a niece perished early today in a fire that swept a three-story wooden tenement building in south-central Montreal.

Dead are Therese Beaudoin; two of her sons, Jacques, 7, and Gilles, 3; three daughters, Sylvie, 6, and Ginette and Renee, 5-year-old twins; and a visiting niece whose identity was being withheld by police pending notification of her next of kin in Sherbrooke, 90-miles east of here.
